'Special Score To Settle,' Japs Told by Stalin

LONDON, Sept. 2 (UP).-Russia has a "special account to settle with Japan." Generalissimo Stalin declared today in a broadcast speech on the occasion of the Japanese surrender.

He added that Japan's uncondi-tional surrender means that southern Sakhalin and the Kurites will pass to the Soviet Union, and will no longer serve as a means of isolating the Soviet Union from the (Pacific) Ocean and as a base for Japantses on our Far East."

Reviewing Russo-Japanese relations, Stalin pointed out that the Japanese attacked Port Arthur in 1904 while negotiations between Russia and Japan were still in progress, a trick she repeated at Pearl Harbor in 1941.

"It is well known that Russia suffered defeat and that Japan took advantage of the Tsarist defeat wo wrest southern Sakhalin from Russia and to strengthen her hold over the Kurile Islands, and thus lock our country from all outlets to the ocean in the east," he said.

Stalin charged that Japan at-tempted to seize all of Russia's Far Eastern possessions following the Eastern possessions following the Soviet revolution, and in 1938 tried to encircle the Trans-Siberian railway by an attack on the Mongolian People's Republic.

"For 40 years we men of the older generation," he concluded, "have waited for this day."

MILAN, Sept. 2 (UP). — Former Prime Minister Churchill and Field Marshal Sir Harold L. arrived here today, according to the Italian radio.

Eight'Musts' for Japan

Article by article, here is what Japan agreed to do under the terms of surrender:

1-Accept all provisions of the Potsdam declaration. 2 Surrender unconditionally all armed forces.

3-Cease hostilities forthwith and preserve and save from damage all ships, aircraft and military and civil

4-Command imperial general headquarters to issue orders to all field commanders everywhere to surrender their forces unconditionally.

5-See that all civil, military and naval officials obey and enforce all orders of the Supreme Allied Commander

6-Carry out in good faith under Allied direction the Potsdam declaration, under which free institutions may be established leading to the restoration of sovereignty.

7-Liberate all Allied war prisoners and civilian internees and see that they arrive safely at debarkation

8-Acknowledge that the authority of the Emperor and the Japanese government is subject to the will of the Supreme Commander.

Hirohito to His People

ABOARD THE USS MISSOURI IN TOKYO BAY, Sept. 2 (ANS). -The following is the official text of a proclamation by Emperor Hirohito issued today by oracrs of the Supreme Allied Commander.

Accepting the terms set forth in the declaration issued by the heads of the governments of the United States, Great Britain and China on July 26, 1945, at Potsdam, and subsequently adhered to by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, I have commanded the Japanese imperial government and the Japanese imperial general headquarters to sign on my behalf the instrument of surrender presented by the Supreme Commander for the Allied powers and to issue general orders to the military and naval forces in accordance with the direction of the Supreme Commander for the Allied powers.

I command all my people forthwith to cease hostilities, to lay down their arms and faithfully to carry out all the provisions of the instrument of surrender and the general orders issued by the Japanese imperial general headquarters hereunder.

VJ-Day Thing of Past -But Duration Isn't

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (ANS) .- Despite President Truman's proclamation of today as VJ-Day, the "duration" is not legally or formally terminated. He made that clear in his Paying tribute to America's war dead, the President said "our first thoughts, of course—thoughts of gratefulness and deep obligation—go out to those of our loved ones who have been killed or maimed in this terrible war. On land and sea and in the air, American men and women have given their lives so that this day of ultimate victory might come and assure the survival of a civilized world. Formal finis to World War Two—which Hitler launched on Sept. 1, 1939, by hurling his armies into Poland—was written in a 20-minute ceremony as the surrender document was signed, starting at 10:30 AM (3:30 AM, Paristime). At that hour, New York was alive with Saturday night joy-seekers. London was asleep, Moscow was greeting the dawn and Tokyo lay under a mid-morning overcast. Two nervous Japanese statesmen formally and unconditionally surrendered all remnants of their stolen empire by signing the papers before a group of Allied leaders —most of them Americans who had converted the Pearl Harbor defeat into a smashing victory after some three years and nine months of fighting.

In the midst of high-ranking United Nations delegates assembled on the gallery deck of the Missouri stood Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor; Lt. Gen. A. E. Percivál, Britain's defender of Singapore, and other recently released prisoners of the Japanese. The 11-man Japanese delegation climbed to the deck and stopped ten paces from a long green-covered table on which the surrender documents were placed.

Opposite them were bemedaled officers representing eight Allied nations—each row six men deep. To the right of the Japanese were lined America's fighting leaders in 21 rows, four deep.

There was silence as the ceremony began. Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, wearing a wrinkled silk morning coat and too hat, leaned on a cane to favor his lame leg. With him were four civilians, three top-hatted and one in a rumpled white suit. Others in the Japanese party were in uniform. Shigemitsu signed first for Japan. ### Paris Welcomes a Native Kelly ---She Welcomes Her GI Son

By Milton Honig Stars and Stripes Staff Writer

Mrs. Georgette R. Kelly-nativeworld War II servicemen and now a WAC Pfc—is back in Paris today after an absence of almost 25 years.

Pfc Kelly not only came back to her hometown after a long "overseas" hitch, but she accidentally met her favorite corporal in the lobby of Rainbow Corner—her son, Cpl. Paul V. Kelly Jr., a 101-point veteran of the 450th Bomber Sqdn., who is awaiting redeployment home to see—he thought—his mother.

Mrs. Kelly married Paul Kelly Sr. in Paris in October, 1918, when he was on detached service with the French Army as an ambulance detached. driver. She was working at an Ordnance depot, and was introduced to her spouse-to-be by her sister, Suzanne, who now lives in Detroit as the wife of an ex-U.S. sailor, "I wanted to learn English," she explained, "and my sister, who knew Paul, fixed it up."

A romance followed and a few months after the wedding, she went to live with her husband's parents in Philadelphia. Her husband, she said, tried to enlist in the Army in this war but was

Mrs. Kelly's meeting with her son was purely luck, and ended a three-year separation. Each knew the other was in France, but no amount of inquiry produced any information. On Saturday, Paul was sitting in Rainbow Gorner, tired out from a tour of WAC detachments in search of his mother, when she walked right by mother, when she walked right by him.

School bells will ring throughout America in a few days. And many a classroom door will remain closed because there aren't enough teachers to go around. What can be done about it?

I suggest that we send home every teacher who is eligible for discharge under the current point system. Let them go by air and they'll be in time to unlock those doors.

No, you've got me wrong; I'm not a school teacher. However, I know plenty of Joes who will waive their priorities for a few weeks for the sake of our kids back home.—Pfc L. R. Nednil, AF.

We have just had one of the few pleasures here taken from us oecause a few guys snafued the works.
Today we got notice that the brass closed down the open nall because 5 percent of the guys don't know how to drink without throwing beer bottles all over town and shooting off their rifles.

We work in an orderly room and get at least five delinquency reports a day for men being caught in the streets without authorized weapons. not carrying dogtags, smoking while driving, driving vehicles without the proper markings or having three men in the front seat of a vehicle, etc., etc. Yet we have never had a case of a man being picked up for firing a weapon or for being drunk.

This does not mean that such cases do not exist, but why in hell don't the MPs start picking up these guys that are fouling up instead of guys that aren't hurting any one? If the MPs want to know why the rest of the Army doesn't like them that's one of the reasons If they must pick up a certain number of the boys each day to keep their pfc stripe let them fill their quota by picking up the ones that are hurting the rest of us by not knowing how to hold their liquor and by endangering the lives of their buddles by shooting their guns everywhere they go.—(8 signatures.—Ed.) ## V J-Labor Day Weekend No Time to Be Working in summer Sunday best stroll and schoolgirls primp in shop windows, admiring the dresses bought for next term. Older girls wear light, gay Gresses with flounces that swing easily from their inps, and many are pare-legged. America is in a high holiday mood, the first since December 1941. In very few places is work being done, and this writer speaks with authority when he says it is not good to be working this Labor Day weekend.

Many of the side sidrets are gay with streamers and bunting "hangovers" from the Jedanese surrender celebrations, kept up to celebrate VJ-Day. Radio programs bring news of the formal surrender scenes. Peace has taken over and many a man with the discharge button fresh in his lapel feels that he is right back where he started with only memories in between

In Washington, they are talking about an early demise of the Office of Strategic Services and its absorption into G-2. It was a shock to come back here am find how freely people talked about OSS, remembering the way it used to be whispered about by a few knowing folk in the ETO. In Washington everybody speaks openly about the OSS, and its offices in a school building are plainly marked for all to see. In fact, the local name for OSS is "Oh So Secret." And almost everyone you meet in the capital knew somebody who worked for the cloak-and-dagger department.

It has been freely said that G-2 never did like the OSS very much, as that organization all along bas played its own game Many Army professionals resented the throrthodox methods of the amateurs who went into the OSS from the ranks of bankers, newspapermen, playboys and professors. Gradually some of the stories of the fantastic things the active side of the OSS performed are coming out. More than 5.000 Allied filers shot down over enenty territory, for instance, were rescued by the organization, apart from its many counter-espionage jobs behind the enemy lines. Understandably, some of these men were less than military in their demeanor. One bearded colonel, for instance, was challenge

Life Is Getting More Like the Advertisements

FROM Philadelphia comes the announcement of another post-war project which proves that life is catching up with magazine advertisements. The Edward G. Budd Manufacturers Co. reports that production will get under way late this year on "budgette" railway sleeping cars, which are planned to take the place of the present openberth sleeper. Each coach, made of stainless steel, will contain 32 separate day and night rooms built on two levels.

A strong fight for the rights of customers was successfully waged in Noblesville, Ind., by Leo Wynn, personnel director of the Firestone Industrial Products Co. Wynn was sued by a restaurant proprietor for the price of a meal he had ordered but not eaten. Wynn said that he waited for 40 minutes after giving his order and finally "took a powder" on the deal. Squire Clarence Wise in the Justice Court said he ate in restaurants himself, and dismissed the case.

MAJ. General Leslie R. Groves, commanding officer of the Manhattan District (the camouflage name for the Oak Ridge. Tenn., atomic-bomb project), visited one of the plants yesterday, and, probably having in mind the criticisms of the use of the bomb by various people, told the workers: "The atomic bomo is not an inhuman weapon. I think our best answer to anyone who doubts this is that we did not start the war, and if they don't like the way we ended it, remember who started it." It was revealed also that the Japanese had made considerable progress in atom-splitting research—but we got in first.

Service Radio Programs Shutting Down

A CCORDING to the magazine Broadcasting, most of the armed-A service programs which have been broadcast over the networks will be closed down soon. "The Army Hour" is one whose future is undecided. "Assignment Home" goes off CBS the middle of this month. "Our Army Service Forces" and "Weapons for Victory" also are making their last bow within the next week or so. "Service to the Front" is on the doubtful list. Apart from the shows being at the end of their usefulness, most of these programs were put on with the help of men who now have sufficient oints to get out of the Army—and do the same work for cash. same work for cash.

Television in color is a promise of the fairly near future. CBS, while not a manufacturer of commercial radio equipment, is developing two models. One set is a small floor model with a picture about nine inches wide, the other a more expensive receiver, with a picture about 22 inches wide. Color television, it is said, will be only slightly more expensive than black and white.

Labor Day Finds America Beating Its Swords Into Ploughshares

Good news for motorists comes from Akron, Ohio, where "all-civilian" tires like these are bouncing off production lines. The industry's present war-expanded capacity is 45.000,000 above the 65,000,000-unit annual pre-war output.

Reconversion from wartime to peacetime production already is in full swing at the Electrolux Corporation's plant in New York. Housewives soon will be getting these new vacuum cleaners to replace decrepit and outmoded machines.

Civilian and military orders are filled in the same shop at Weber Showcase and Fixture Plant in Los Angeles, which made war goods ranging from life rafts to plane wings. Workmen in foreground turn out cabinets for frozen foods while those in the background complete a wartime order for airplane wings,

In Detroit, where giant plants filled vast orders for planes, tanks and guns, many factories already have reconverted to production of consumer goods while others tooling up for the job. Ford's Highland Park plant, which used to make light tanks and bomber parts, now is turning out farm tractors like these.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Despite Berlin radio reports that Martin Bormann, Hitler's number one aide in his last days, was in Allied hands, there was absolutely no evidence here to support the radio statement.

From information available it appeared that the report had stem-med from a misinterpretation of the list of war criminals issued Thursday, which mentioned Bormann's name as one of those facing trial.

A dispatch from the Allied Press Service in London (news and propaganda agency for the western Allies) received by the U.S. Army edited Allgemeine Zeitung here said "publication of the official list of war criminals confirms for the first time that Martin Bormann has been captured."

Was in Shelter

The dispatch continued: "Bormann until shortly before the fall of Berlin was in the Fuehrer's shelter of the Reichschancellery. After the capture of Berlin by the Russians the rumor spread that Bormann was killed. Later on foreign papers said he had been taken prisoner by the Russians."

This dispatch was later ordered

This dispatch was later ordered stopped by the APS, but apparently not before it had reached the Soviet-controlled Berlin radio, which carried the report yesterday.

Special interest has been focused on Bormann, only uncaptured member of the first list of accused war criminals, because of his close association with Hitler in the final days of the battle of Berlin.

The fact that he had escaped from the flaming city, where he had hid in Hitler's shelter with the Fuehrer and the Fuehrer's mistress, Eva Braun, would tend credence to rumors that the Nazi chief had not died during the city's fall, as originally reported.

Bormann had served as a sort of super-confidential secretary to Hitler.

Crimes Teams Comb Europe

For Missing Deputy

The habits of the 50 Nazi party leaders and generals now awaiting trial in Nuremberg city jail for war crimes should make many a buck for the historians. We pass on these notes to them in the hope that they'll spring for a drink, if we meet them in the soldiers' hereafter called civil life.

Athough Hermann Goering was slowed down recently by a heart attack. Col. Burton Andrus of Denver, Colo., the jailer, says the flably ex-Reichsmarshal is in good health. A glutton when he was first captured, Goering is no longer a chowhound. He never asks for seconds, and only occasionally requests an extra piece of bread.

Says DDT Could Kill Job Bill Would Aid Economy, Snyder Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (ANS).

Reconversion boss John W. Snyder said today that the nation needed mechanism to maintain a stable economy just as it needed one to keep the peace.

Endorsing the Full Employment Bill, Snyder told the Senate Bank-ing Committee that the legislation would not "produce as much as a single job" in itself, but would pro-vide a method for mobilizing the country's resources so everyone could find work.

"In the past," he said, "we have had no machinery by which to organize in a systematic way for prevention of depressions or of wars. We need such machinery.

'Must Take Action'

"It has taken two catastrophic world wars to bring us into an international organization equipped with effective means of investigating and solving problems which threaten peace.

"I feel certain that it is not necessary to suffer another catastrophic depression to awaken us to the need of establishing a mechanism for a systematic attack on economic instability. We must take positive action to neip us achieve full employment."

Charley Ruffing was pinned with the defeat, his second against five wins since his Army discharge. Joe Kuhel's single, George Binks' triple and an outfield fly gave the Nats two runs and broke the scoreless deadlock in the sixth. Successive singles by George Case, Mercury Myatt and Buddy Lewis racked up the last tally in the seventh.

The Browns lost ground in the race when they fell four games back by splitting with the White Sox. The Sox checked a six-game losing streak by bagging the opener, 5-3, but went back to their losing ways in the nightcap, 3-0. Thornton Lee spun a six-hitter for his 14th success in the opener to beat Tex Shirley. Nelson Potter duplicated the feat for the Browns in the finale as successive homers by Milt Byrnes and Gene Moore in

Parker Forced to Limit To Gain U.S. Net Finals

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Sgt. Frankie Parker's chances of retaining his National Singles Tennis championship were almost "cooked" yesterday when he had to fight all the way for a 6-1, 8-6, 7-5 triumph over Elwood

6-1, 8-6, 7-5 triumph over Elwood Cooke to attain the final round. However, the Cookes got an even break for the day when the feminine half of the tennis family, wife Sarah, moved into the finals of the women's section by routing Louise Brough, 6-3, 6-4. Mrs. Cooke today faces three-time champion Pauline Betz in an effort to regain the title.

Parker Almost Bows

Parker, whose deceptively smooth tennis has enabled him to sweep through the tourney thus far with-out the loss of a set, never came through the tourney thus far without the loss of a set, never came closer to losing than he did against Cooke yesterday. After taking a first-set drubbing, Cooke, who has never placed higher than sixth nationally, discovered the tactics that might have won for him with a little better execution.

Babe Annexes Broadmoor,6-4

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col. Sept. 2.—Babe Didrikson Zaharias yesterday added the Broadmoor Invitation golf tourney to her long list of trophies when she defeated Dorothy Kielty in their 36-hole final, 6 and 4.

The Babe had to come from beshind to take the measure of Miss Kielty, a newcomer to golfdom. Miss Kielty, a Los Angeles dressmaker turned war worker, served notice in the recent National Amateur and here that she is a future threat as she blasted out a three-up margin over Mrs. Zaharias on the first gin over Mrs. Zaharias on the first nine. The former Olympic star managed to cut the deficit to a single hole as the rivals took time out for lunch after the first 18.

Then the Babe turned on the heaf in the afternoon round and carved out a five-under par session that was the best ever turned in by a feminine swinger on the local course.

Famed BruinKraut Line May Return to Hockey

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Boston Bruin hockey fans began looking at the 1945-46 National League season with confidence today after learning that there was a good chance that the famed Kraut line of Bobby Rener Milt Schmidt and Woods Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Woody, Dumart will be relieved from their military assignments and return to the ice. The Krauts sparked the great sextets which Manager Art Ross had around the turn of the decade.

Ross, who made the announcement in regard to the Krauts, also stated that the Bruins would return to Quebec for their training this season and that the members would
