Germany's Stout Resistance Arrests Red Army

British Bomber Formations Scattered in Central Germany

Surprise Attacks Sweep off Soviets

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters, January 15th, 1944.

The German Supreme Command announces:-

To the north-east of Kertsch, in the bridgehead of Nikopol and south-west of Dnepropetrovsk strong Soviet attacks collapsed. In the course of these operations 46 enemy tanks were destroyed.

North-west of Kirovograd, as well as in the sectors east and south of Shashkoff the German troops flung back the Bolsheviks in counter-attacks. Enemy attacks remained ineffective.

South-west of Pogrebishche the German counter-attacks are progressing favourably. Fifteen enemy tanks and 23 guns were destroyed in the course of this fighting.

To the west of Berdichev formations of the Waffen SS smashed two enemy regiments in counter-attacks and caused heavy losses to the Soviets.

The strong enemy pressure in the area west of Novograd-Volynsk and west of Sarny continues.

In the battle area west of Rechitsa repeated Soviet attacks were repulsed. Enemy battle groups which had thrust ahead, were thrown back in counter-attack.

Near Vitebsk renewed Soviet attempts at break-through, supported by tanks and battle aircraft, broke down. Local penetrations were sealed up.

To the north and north-west of Nevel, as well as north of Lake Ilmen and in the area of Oranienbaum the Soviets attacked with strong formations, but were repulsed in heavy fighting.

Lieutenant Kuehn of a German Tank Regiment destroyed his 50th Soviet tank in the defensive fighting in the area of Kirovograd.

After heavy fighting which caused especially heavy losses to the enemy the German troops on the South Italian front disengaged themselves in the sector of Cervaro and took up previously prepared positions a few kilometres to the west. The hotly pursuing enemy was repelled during renewed attacks. On the remainder of the front the day passed quietly.

While warding off an attack by British aircraft on Norwegian coastal territory six out of 12 attacking machines were shot down by German fighters and anti-aircraft artillery.

Strong British bomber formations last night entered Central Germany. The German air defences prevented the enemy carrying through a concentrated attack. The enemy dropped bombs at random at several localities. According to incomplete reports 40 enemy bombers were shot down. Another 14 enemy aircraft were brought down during the day over the occupied territories in the West.

The German Supreme Command furthermore announces: in order to weaken the impression made on the American public by the continued heavy losses suffered by North American terror raiders during their attacks against the German population, the American Air Force continuously publish highly exaggerated figures of German fighters shot down.

Thus the Americans maintain to have shot down 104 German fighters during their attack on Schweinfurt on October 14th, 1943, 138 in the course of their attack on Emden on December 11th, 1943, and 152 over Central Germany on January 11th, 1944. That is a total of 394 German fighters.

The actual losses amount to 98 German fighters. Over one-third of the crews were able to save themselves by parachute and were unhurt.

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters, January 16th, 1944.

The German Supreme Command announces:-

North-east of Kertsch and at the bridgehead of Nikopol repeated fierce Soviet attacks collapsed in the face of the German defensive fire.

North-west of Kirovograd the enemy again attacked with strong infantry and tank forces. The Soviets were checked in the course of fierce fighting whilst the penetration dating from the fighting of the previous day was sealed up in a counter-attack.

In the area to the east of Shashkoff a German surprise attack resulted in particularly heavy losses for the enemy. Several Bolshevik relief attacks were repulsed.

In spite of stubborn enemy resistance the German counter-attacks south-west of Pogrebishche gained further ground.

In the fighting to the west of Berdichev the enemy lost 116 guns in the course of the past two days, as well as numerous lorries and other war material.

Lively local fighting is reported from the Novograd-Volynsk area and from the area west of Sarny.

In the battle area west of Rechitsa the German troops in a counter-attack flung back the Soviet assault troops which had thrust across the Pripiet.

To the west of Krichiev Bolshevik attacks were frustrated.

South-east of Vitebsk the Soviets repeatedly attacked with strong forces. A penetration was sealed up after 27 enemy tanks had been destroyed.

North-west and north of Nevel, as well as north of Lake Ilmen, the Bolsheviks continued their attacks. The enemy broke through at a few points, but was flung back in counter-attack.

South of Leningrad the Soviets attacked with the support of tanks and battle-planes. They were repulsed. In one sector fighting is still in progress with an enemy combat group which broke through.

In the Oranienbaum area all Soviet attacks were frustrated again yesterday.

On January 15th, 72 Soviet aircraft were shot down on the Eastern Front as against three German losses.

On the South Italian front the strong enemy attacks in the sector north of Cervaro were repulsed in hard fighting. Embittered fighting is still in progress at a point of penetration.

In the heavy fighting in the area north-west of Mignano the 2nd battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 15, under the command of Captain Meitzel, as well as the 2nd Battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 71, under the command of Captain Schneider, greatly distinguished themselves. Both battalions hailed from Hessen/Thuringen.

In the evening hours yesterday a few German aircraft attacked targets in South-Eastern England.

Second Front Appointments

President Roosevelt has addressed a wireless message to the American people in which he declared that:-

"Our decisions imply the creation of a Second Front in which will be engaged our troops, who will attempt the invasion of the Western Continent. This attack will take place at the same time as the Soviet Army will be carrying on its offensive on the Eastern Front. We must not conceal that these operations shall be very costly to the 'Allies'."

General Eisenhower has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Anglo-American forces for the Second Front, and shall be replaced in his functions as Supreme Chief of the Mediterranean Sector by the British General, Sir Maitland Wilson.

It is also announced that General Alexander has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Anglo-American Armies in Italy, and that General Montgomery will be in command of the group of British armies previously under General Eisenhower.

General Spaatz will be in charge of all the American Bombardment Squadrons which operate against Germany.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson, a member of the Military Commission of the Senate declared that, from information received from a reliable source the United States would supply at the least, 75 per cent of the troops for the attack of Europe.

A spreading anti-semitic feeling is rising in the U.S.A. is reported rather alarmingly by the Jewish news agency "Site." This feeling is strongest in the business areas of Boston, Chicago and New York, where more than 100 Jewish businesses are being boycotted.

Soviet Demands to Poland

According to the London "Sunday Dispatch," the renewal of diplomatic relations between the Soviets and the Polish Phantom Government in London cannot be accepted by the Soviets until the formal condition that Poland renounces to all claims on the southern portion of its territory has been complied with. On the other hand Poland may keep the wooded regions between Vilna and Livov.

The Soviets demand the resignation of General Sasnokowski, Polish Minister of Defence, who is supported by the Nationalist centres of the Polish Army.

The exiled Polish Government has replied that it would not accept any decision imposed by a third party, and that it desired to see all the frontier problems settled after the war.

The correspondent of the "Glasgow Herald" reports that for months now no corn has been sold in the open market in Southern Italy. Black-market bread can be purchased at prices 40 times above normal. The inhabitants are advised to go on a "hunger diet."

William Joyce Reveals:

German Air Defences Much Strengthened

Have Britons Any Idea of their Government's Policy?

William Joyce put a serious question to the English-speaking world in his broadcast from Germany at 1.30 on Saturday afternoon. It was "Have the English people the least idea of what they are fighting for and the direction of their Government's policy?"

This followed his disclosing of an interview between Mr. McGhekie and Mr. Vernon Bartlett, broadcast by the B.B.C. that morning. McGhekie observed to Vernon Bartlett that the first thing the British must recognise was that there was no such thing as an established Polish frontier, east or west. On that Joyce exclaimed: "Well—I should like to ask what the English would have said had they heard such an outstanding admission made on September 1st, 1939—that there was no natural or historical frontier in Poland!" Joyce further revealed that

McGhekie had said to Vernon Bartlett that the Allies were not fighting for the restoration of the map as it stood five years ago, upon which Joyce continued: "Have the English the least idea of what they are fighting for and what is really the direction of their aims and policy?"

Joyce commented, as usual, on the latest phases of the gigantic struggle going on along the Eastern Front. In the past two days the Germans had accounted for 335 Soviet machines. It was obvious that Stalin had decided for various reasons to try to break-through the German lines and so be able to force a decision rapidly. Germany was not anxious about the future. The Soviets knew quite well that she did not need to detach forces on the Eastern Front to meet the threatened invasion on the Western Front: Germany was fully prepared to meet the Second Front there, when it took place. But the question of whether the Allies would establish that long-spoken-of Second Front in Europe was still an open question to the speaker. Certainly, Churchill had given the pledge to Stalin at the Teheran Conference that the great attempts would be made, and later it was disclosed that the time and place were settled. Stalin was watching events closely. Part of his policy was to have England so weakened that any claims she would wish to make later, or any conditions advanced, would be by that weakness worthless of any consideration or respect.

Continuing, Joyce observed that Major Oliver Stewart had laid it down that the Anglo American forces must have air supremacy established on the Continent before they could think of landing an invading army there, and until that time, no supremacy could be attained by them. Meanwhile fantastic statements were being made by the Americans in regard to the losses of the German Luftwaffe; some actually going the length of asserting that the German Air Force had practically ceased to exist! But such an expert as Major Oliver Stewart entertained no such illusion, and, indeed, wrote of new weapons which the Luftwaffe were using with such disastrous effects. There was, agreed Joyce, a striking proof of this in the air battle of last Tuesday, and there was reason to suppose the Allies would soon feel more of this, for the German air defences had been greatly strengthened of recent months, and what would the Allies think of the position then?

Concluding on the note of the interview given on the B.B.C. that morning, Joyce said that if the Polish Government turned down the offer made them, they could not prevent the Russians in Poland having a Government more to their own liking. The point, however, was that Germany would not be broken up, yet nothing would prevent the Russians taking what they liked in Poland—and they would like a lot," salvaged Joyce with emphasis in a parting "broadside" that re-echoed through the world of listeners-in.

Very heavy casualties have been reported after the bombing of San Remo, especially because this health-resort on the Italian Riviera had become a veritable "Hospital Town" in wartime. 3,000 children, refugees from Lybia, had sought refuge here. There are no military targets in San Remo whatever. Many bombs were dropped near the school and caused many deaths.

In the last speech he made before the German people, Dr. Goebbels concluded with this firm resolution:—"The hard times we are going through find us ever ready. We shall oppose to them the firmness of our strong will. Who shall doubt that this firmness of our will shall conquer these hard times? For this we must have patience and endurance, constancy in our hearts, intelligence and courage. We are ready to bear everything on our shoulders, but never shall we bear the shame which is created by a cowardly mentality."

Helping the Disabled

At the instigation of Dr. Ley, the Head of the German Labour Front, a special institution has been founded for the study and care of injuries to workmen. In addition to the scientific observation and treatment of bodily injuries sustained while at work and their consequences, the object of the Institution is to discover ways and means of encouraging and helping the disabled to use what physical powers they still possess.

To this end the Institution is fitted apart from the latest clinical equipment, with workshops and an agricultural section where the maimed are given an opportunity of learning to do what jobs are within their respective powers. During the war the Institution, as far as it is already completed, has been placed at the disposal of the war-wounded.

Dr. Ley, who recently opened the building addressed an assembly of soldiers and stated that the original aim of the Institution was to mitigate the lot of disabled workers but was now being placed at the disposal of the men wounded on active service who were faced with similar problems as those who sustained injuries while at work.

Police Court

THIS DAY.

Before Jurat Quartier Le Pelley, Magistrate.

HEAVY FINES FOR OVERCHARGING

John Raymond Holbeck, 43, a shop-keeper, of 33, Pollet Street, was charged with selling, through an agent, at Pollet Street, on January 8th, 1944, a child's tri-cycle for RM 250, such price being in excess of the permitted retail price. Further, for failing to price such goods in clearly legible figures.

Accused pleaded guilty.

This case was taken in conjunction with the following one:—

Cyril Lorie, 20, a shop-assistant, of Bouet, St. Peter-Port, was charged with (1) selling a child's tri-cycle for RM 250, such price being in excess of the permitted retail price; (2) failing to mark the price of such goods in clearly legible figures; (3) failing to affix the appropriate Sales Tax Stamps payable under the Law; (4) failing to affix revenue stamps to the receipt issued.

Lorie stated he did not think Sales Tax applied to bicycles, and had never seen revenue stamps.

Inspector A. P. Lamy stated that the tri-cycle was valued at £3 14s. 6d.

Holbeck declared that he had had to pay a heavy price for it.

The Attorney-General stated he took a very serious view of this case, and suggested a fine of £50 or three months' imprisonment on the first charge against Mr. Holbeck, and £20 or two months' imprisonment on the second.

The first two charges against Lorie were dropped. The Attorney-General suggested penalties of £20 or two months' imprisonment and £5 or one month's imprisonment in the case of Lorie.

Holbeck was fined £50 or three months' imprisonment, and £20 or two months' imprisonment respectively.

Lorie was fined £20 or two months' imprisonment, plus the appropriate Sales Tax, and £5 or one month's imprisonment.

CURFEW, AND CARD CASES

Patricia Raleigh, 16, a domestic, of 1, Victoria-terrace, was fined £1 or 8 days' imprisonment, and 5s. or 2 days' imprisonment respectively, for being out during Curfew hours, and failing to produce her Identity Card.

William Alfred Baker, 21, a labourer, of 11, Rougeval-road, St. Peter-Port, was fined 5s. or 2 days' imprisonment for failing to produce his Identity Card.

PRISON FOR FAILING TO KEEP PEACE

Albert Francis Ferbrache, a labourer, of "Chaumont," Rohais, was charged with behaving in a disorderly manner at the Emergency Hospital, at about 1.30 p.m. on January 16, 1944. Also being a person bound over on December 31, 1943, to keep the peace did fail to keep the conditions of his recognisances.

Accused pleaded Not Guilty.

Matron Rabey declared that she saw the accused tapping on a kitchen window and using bad language.

Ferbrache declared he called to leave a message for Miss Warne. He did not know he used obscene language as he was drunk.

The Magistrate sentenced Ferbrache to one week's imprisonment on the first charge and to one month's imprisonment on the second. "Your promise not to molest Miss Warne still stands," added the Magistrate.

Dairy Workers Sentenced

SIX MONTHS FOR STEALING AND RECEIVING MILK

The trial took place at the Court House before the Bailiff and seven Jurats on Saturday, of Henry William Simon and Garnet Claude Bellet, two men who were employed by the States Dairy Department, and who were charged with having taken milk which belonged to that Department.

THE INDICTMENTS

HENRY WILLIAM SIMON

The Acting-Attorney-General actioned Henry William Simon, son of Thomas Simon, aged 37 years or thereabouts, a native of Alderney, to be awarded such sentence, or corporal punishment that the Court would deem proper, for having—the said Simon—on his own confession, during the four months between August 15th and December 15th, 1943, or thereabouts, alone or with an accomplice or accomplices, taken, stolen and carried away (or, alternatively having received, concealed and had in his possession) almost daily from the States Dairy Depot situated at La Ramée, St. Peter-Port (where the said Simon was employed by the Department as a worker) two pots, or thereabouts, of milk belonging to that Department.

On December 31st, 1943, the said Simon pleaded not guilty of the first charge, but admitted his guilt of the alternative charge of receiving, and then chose Advocate W. H. Langlois to be his Counsel.

GARNET CLAUDE BELLOT

The Acting-Attorney-General actioned Garnet Claude Bellet, son of George, aged 41, or thereabouts, a native of this Island, for having—on his own confession—during the four months between August 15th and December 15th, 1943, or thereabouts, alone, or with an accomplice or accomplices, taken, stolen and carried away daily from the States Dairy Depot at La Ramée, of which the said Bellet was in charge, two pots, or thereabouts, of milk belonging to the States Department.

CASE FOR PROSECUTION

Opening the case, the Attorney-General said he proposed to drop the charge of theft against Simon and only pursue the alternative charge. The Court approved. It was revealed that after enquiries had been made at the Ramée Milk Depot, Bellet admitted taking milk daily. Simon, on being questioned, admitted receiving milk. In a statement made to P.-Sergt. Pugh, the Attorney-General continued, Bellet declared he had taken two pots of whole milk a day since Simon had been working with him and given it to Simon. The Police Inspector said that there were no previous convictions against Bellet. In the case of Simon, he had been found guilty in December 1941, of stealing tea from Le Riche's.

The Attorney-General, giving his conclusions, stated that Bellet had been honest up to the time when Simon started working with him. Nevertheless he was the forerunner, and therefore responsible. Simon had apparently led Bellet "off the rails." "In the case of Simon," he concluded, "I ask for a term of imprisonment of six months and a similar penalty for Bellet."

Advocate W. H. Langlois, on behalf of the accused, observed that each prisoner had made a full confession. A statement made by Mr. W. J. Rugg (a former employer of Bellet), gave Bellet an excellent character. "The men are not habitual criminals," the defending Counsel concluded, "but are guilty of a serious lapse."

The Bailiff, summing-up, declared that these men, employed in the proper distribution of whole milk, had stolen it, thereby preventing it reaching the persons who needed it. "Although Simon may have persuaded Bellet, Bellet is responsible for the crime. I do not see that six months is more than they deserve; to give less, I think the Court would not be doing their duty," he concluded.

The Court unanimously decided on the conclusions, each man to serve six months at hard labour.

CHIEF PLEAS

The Court of Chief Pleas following Christmas, was held at the Royal Court House at 11 o'clock this morning. Victor G. Carey, Esq., Bailiff, presided, and the roll was called by Mr. A. J. Rousseau (H.M.'s Greffier).

The renewal en bloc of Provisional Ordinances was obtained and the report on Controlled Streams was accepted. The Attorney-General obtained the renewals of the Villaze, L'Erée, and Alderney Aerodromes on the same conditions as before, and the licences for Explosives were renewed. The report from the Constable of the Vale on the condition of the Hougue Ricart Quarry was accepted.

Funeral

The funeral took place on Thursday, at the Foulon Cemetery, of Miss Selina Frampton. The Rev. Wm. Kilshaw, A.K.C., officiated. Those present were Mrs. W. Frampton and Miss Byrne. The funeral was of a private nature. There was one beautiful floral cross from Wil. Ella and Flo. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Messrs. I. C. Fuzzey, Ltd., whose Mr. C. H. Fuzzey personally supervised.

Save Fuel, Syrup-Making!

Housewife writes to point out that those who make sugar beet syrup and have hay-boxes should use them in the process and so save much fuel. She observes that having brought the cut-up beets to boil in saucepans she places the saucepans for 12 hours in the hay-box; returns them to boil over a fire, then puts the saucepans in the hay-box for a further 12 hours, when the beets are ready to be strained. "This method saves me much money," she concludes.

At the close of the evening's appreciated entertainment, one of the patients, in a neat little speech, thanked Mr. Keyho and his friends on behalf of the audience.

URGENT APPEAL TO BOXERS

I have received a list of provisional matchings for the G.A.B.C.'s forthcoming boxing tourney at the Regal Cinema on Monday, February 7th, from match-maker, Steve Piquet.

It is stressed that these pairings are not definite, for they have yet to be sanctioned by the Committee, who are meeting at the New Street training quarters to-morrow evening at 7.

Boxers and trainers should especially study these probable matchings and must make a point of immediately informing Steve Piquet whether or not they will be able and willing to fight on the night. Their decisions will facilitate the work of the Committee in their preparation for this next eagerly-anticipated tournament.

If these bouts do come off, boxing enthusiasts are assured of another good show.

Here are the pairings:—M. Gartell v. W. Queripel (for the Welter-weight title); D. Lappage v. W. Elliott; Les Collins v. H. Brouard; E. Farnham v. C. de Carteret; A. Hudson v. A. Dumaresq; R. Lamb v. K. Le Noury; H. Guille v. C. Hockey; J. Lanyon v. M. Branquet (for the Bantam-weight title); F. Rogers v. J. Dorey; J. Gauvain v. W. Hobson; F. Renouf v. R. Bideau; J. Langlois v. R. Vaudin; R. Domaille v. T. Allen; J. de la Mare v. K. Burns; D. Le Noury v. S. Mourant; J. Leaman and W. Martel are still to be matched.

All the above are urged to communicate with Mr. Piquet, without delay.

RINGSIDER.

SATURDAY'S SOCCER

Two football fixtures were played at Beau Séjour on Saturday last. In a First League encounter the Rovers triumphed over G. Rocques by 5 goals to 2. Le Noury opened the scoring for the Seasideers from a penalty, Robillard equalising just before half-time. During the second half, further goals were added by Loveridge, Robillard, Collins (2) for the Rovers, while Le Noury replied for G. Rocques. Mr. N. F. Ozard was the referee.

The postponed Reserve League encounter between the Vale Rec. and St. Martin's followed the First League game and resulted in a 4 goals to 1 win for the Vale Rec. The first half was very evenly contested, but the Northern team scored twice without reply and eventually ran out winners of a good game, which was controlled by Mr. Eric Field.

"The Crucifixion"

St. Sampson's Church Choir will render "The Crucifixion" (Sir John Stainer), on Good Friday evening, under the direction of Mr. Stan Keyho, organist.

Boy Injured

Master M. Brache, of Cognon, Vale, was helping his father on Saturday morning when a wooden mallet used to drive ows stakes into the ground struck his left hand and injured it. First-aid was given by Pte. L. Singleton, of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, after which Master Brache was conveyed in the St. John Ambulance to the Emergency Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. W. R. Cambridge.

HANAFIN TRIAL RESUMED

In the Royal Court on Saturday morning further progress was made in the trial of James Hanafin, indicted for having stolen from Mr. Abdul Ghani's house the sum of £155 11s. 2½d. sterling.

Advocate W. H. Langlois (defending counsel), declared that from the beginning his client maintained a plea of Not Guilty. There was no direct evidence, nothing but circumstantial evidence of a flimsy nature. The law relating to circumstantial evidence was then quoted at length. "I cannot conceive," he continued, "that Hanafin would stop about 200 yards from the house (as witnesses for the prosecution had said he was) at the very time Ghani would be in the locality." No one had seen the accused enter the house or coming out. The money had not been recovered and could not be associated with the money in Hanafin's possession. The presumptions of the prosecution were rash and light. The witnesses Windsor and Sweet must have mistaken the accused for someone else.

The Court adjourned the further hearing until this morning, following the Chief Pleas.

The Attorney-General addressed the Court at some length, reviewing the evidence, and submitted that Hanafin's alibi had not been proved. The circumstantial evidence led to the accused Hanafin, who, having stolen the money, must have escaped by the back window, breaking articles in doing so. Summing up, the Bailiff said the most damning evidence against Hanafin was that of trying to alarm Hamon after proceedings had been taken with regard to the time of his visit.

HANAFIN FREED

The Court unanimously decided to give Hanafin the benefit of the doubt, and he was discharged.
