Pétain Replies to Fuehrer

Vichy, Monday.
The French Chief of State, Marshal Pétain, has replied to the Fuehrer's letter, and states that the French Government, on its part, is pursuing a policy the aim of which is to assure France's future in a reorganised Europe.

Italians living in Tunisia have been called to the colours. The mobilisation is proceeding in a spirit of enthusiasm.

Opposition to De Gaulle

Tangier, Monday.
Contrary to English and American pretensions that the situation in French Morocco is fully clarified and that calm and order reign everywhere, political circles in Tangier which are in sympathy with the de Gaulle movement state that opposition to the movement in Morocco is very active, more especially the "Legion des Combattants."

No Mexicans for Overseas

Madrid, Monday.
According to reports from Mexico, General Cardenas declared that Mexico is determined not to send a single soldier to any theatre of war overseas.

Gibraltar: Port of Refuge

Madrid, Monday.
It is reported from Gibraltar that several ships with shipwrecked crews of sunken allied vessels have arrived at Gibraltar. On the journey through the dangerous waters the seamen reported having frequently come across the floating bodies of drowned sailors.

CONVOY SMASHED OFF ENGLISH COAST

Destroyers and Torpedo Boats in Violent Night Fight

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters, December 14th, 1942.

The German Supreme Command announces:

In the high ranges of the Caucasus a number of enemy thrusts were repelled.

In other parts of the southern sector of the front fighting, frequently very fierce, with strong enemy groups is continuing.

German tank forces operating from the sector south-west of Stalingrad smashed the strong enemy forces, whose counter-attacks collapsed, the enemy losing over 20 tanks.

In the course of an attack in the Kalmuck Steppe, carried out during the past few days in the rear of the enemy, numerous prisoners were made and the supply traffic of the enemy was effectively disorganised.

Italian troops again repulsed local Bolshevik attacks on the Don front, with heavy losses for the enemy. 25 Soviet aircraft were shot down, as against 4 German losses.

Fighting in the area between Kalinin and Lake Ilmen is continuing. Soviet attempts to break through and relieve encircled enemy forces were repulsed, another 31 tanks being destroyed.

Since November 25th the enemy lost in the course of his futile attacks 1,568 armoured cars in the area of one Army alone.

In the course of assault party activity of German troops on the Wolchow and south of Lake Ladoga, numerous fortified positions of the enemy were destroyed.

German bombers last night attacked the town and harbour of Murmansk.

Lively reconnaissance and artillery activity is reported from the Cyrenaica. German bombers carried out heavy attacks against shipping and harbour installations in Bengasi.

In Tunisia, German combat planes destroyed several enemy tanks. The harbour area of Bone was again heavily bombed by German and Italian planes. Fires and explosions were caused.

ROOSEVELT PLUNDERS WHILE BRITAIN FIGHTS

America's Share in N. African Battle is Behind the Lines

While the British are doing the fighting in North Africa, the Americans are engaged in a policy of exploitation. This point was made by Lord Haw-Haw (William Joyce) when broadcasting from Bremen yesterday afternoon.

Beginning with a reference to the Eastern Front, he quoted the latest report from the German Supreme Command to the effect that Soviet attacks in the region of Tuapse had been repulsed by a German infantry division. Local attacks launched by the enemy in the Volga-Don area were broken by the resistance of German and Italian troops, whilst Hungarian storm-troops destroyed Soviet fighting posts on the eastern bank of the Don. German, Roumanian, Italian and Hungarian aircraft supported the ground forces at focal points of the fighting. Thirty-seven Soviet planes were destroyed, against the loss of 7 by the Germans. South of Rshew the Soviets made repeated attempts to break through, but all the attacks collapsed, and 153 Soviet tanks were either put out of action or totally destroyed.

"It will be recalled," said Lord Haw-Haw, "that in the first ten days of this month 1,262 tanks were lost by the Bolsheviks. During the last few days their average rate of loss appears to have increased, and this is but one indication of the wild and reckless sacrifice which Stalin is making in attempts to continue the desperate gamble which gives him no prospects of success. There can be no doubt that his present strategy is not only costly to a high degree, but unproductive of any results which could justify such a prodigious expenditure of manpower and materials.

"It is for this reason that Soviet headquarters have issued a preposterous communiqué claiming that fabulous losses have been suffered by the German forces. The figures are so fantastic that to quote them would be an injustice to the intelligence of my listeners. The Soviet Government, however, has found it necessary to issue such a statement for internal consumption with a view to stimulating flagging morale. But Stalin can hardly expect that the claims he makes will command any credence, even in Britain, where Soviet reports on last winter's campaign aroused bright hopes which were rudely dashed this summer.

"It is precisely because the latest Soviet offensives have achieved no tangible or visible success that Stalin has to justify his immense losses by imputing casualties of gargantuan proportions to the German forces. Time will most assuredly show that it is the Soviet war potential which has been weakened in these operations. The Bolsheviks are faced with a terrible winter. They will not get from America and Britain the supplies they have been promised, much less those which are needed.

"Even when there was no campaign in French North Africa to make onerous claims on British shipping and place a major strain on the British Navy, Stalin told the American journalist, Mr. Cassidy, that the amount of assistance given to the Soviet Union by its allies was of very little effect. Now, however, the tonnage problem has in every way become more acute for Germany's enemies. The Arctic route is no less dangerous than before. Both Churchill and Roosevelt are in a position to offer the excuse that their primary commitment is to maintain the supplies needed by the Anglo-American forces in North Africa, and this is a task which even enemy propaganda admits to be extremely difficult of performance.

"Incidentally, the Canadian Minister for Arms Production, Mr. Howe, has just stated that since the beginning of the war the losses in British and allied shipping have been double the rate of ship building, and I am perfectly certain that he presented the situation in a light altogether more favourable than the facts justify. It should always be remembered that, apart from vessels actually sunk, a very large number of ships is so seriously damaged as to put them out of commission for long periods. This is well illustrated by the announcement from Radio New York that 15 per cent of the sum voted under the Lease and Lend Act has been appropriated to pay for repairs to ships damaged by enemy action.

"It is evident that Soviet Russia's collapse will be accelerated by the failure of British and American supplies to arrive in adequate quantities, but it is equally clear that the Anglo-American effort in North Africa cannot be sustained without very substantial supplies which must arrive in time. Thus Mr. Churchill is on the horns of a most intractable dilemma.

"From North Africa the communiqué of the German Supreme Command gives further news. On the Cyrenaica front strong British attacks were shattered by immediate counter-attacks of the German tank forces. Concerning this zone of operations, it seems that British propagandists themselves have become mystified. It is quite certain that whatever nervousness may exist does not exist on the part of the Axis. The harbour of Tobruk, enemy motorised columns, and an aerodrome have been effectively bombed. Likewise, the harbour of Bone was bombed again, and a merchant ship of 8,000 tons set on fire. A British destroyer was sunk off Oran, and an American destroyer was sunk in the same area by a German submarine.

"In Tunisia, fighting still continues. Attempts by the enemy to win back ground lost during recent days met with no success. It is perhaps not without interest that Moscow, on Saturday night, broadcast the statement that German counter-attacks in Tunisia had lost none of their force. The broadcast was in Russian and therefore meant for internal consumption. There is good reason to believe that the Soviets were promised early successes in North Africa which have not materialised, and there are some who hold that Stalin's latest offensives were based upon a very serious misconception of the manner in which the North African operations would develop.

"Speaking from London on Saturday night, a commentator of the Columbia Broadcasting System told his countrymen that London was very interested in the statement made by the United States Secretary of State for War, Mr. Stimson, that the majority of the attacking force in Tunisia was British. It was clear, he said, that the American share in the battle was contributed largely behind the lines. Also, in the air, the main brunt of the attack, except for some Flying Fortresses, was being borne by British Spitfires.

"Well, well, well! So Roosevelt is, as Churchill states, entirely responsible for the North African undertaking; American generals are in command; Darlan, against the wishes of the British Government, has been invested with powers of the highest political authority—powers of life and death; and American business men are already taking over the commercial assets of Morocco and Algeria. But at the front, where fighting is taking place, it is British troops who have to bear the brunt and make the sacrifices, whilst the Americans' share in the battle is contributed largely behind the lines, as we are told by an American commentator speaking from London.

"Roosevelt is pursuing his policy of dollar aggrandisement at the expense of British lines, British troops, and British war material. This is one of the mysteries that cannot be explained on the basis of any facts known to the world at large. British people ought to realise that here is a case for the most searching inquiry."

Jewish Influence in Egypt

Vichy, Monday.
Charles Maurras published in the French journal, "Action Française," the letter of a Frenchman who has experienced the political developments in Egypt.

In this letter it is stated, inter alia, that the breaking off of Egypt's relations with France, at the request of Britain, is very much deplored by Egypt. In this manoeuvre the British had the full support of Egyptian Jews, who are all de Gaulle sympathisers regardless of whether they had a French passport or not. Their influence in Egypt is very great, many undertakings in the country being controlled by their capital.

The writer of the letter states that he did not know a single Jew who was not a de Gaulle sympathiser. The Jews who emanated from Germany and Italy had been given preferential treatment by Britain. They have not been interned as Germans or Italians, but were recognised as Jews and remained at liberty.

Thus Britain has recognised that a Jewish nation exists, even if it has no Government of its own. In France, Jews are to be found in all the ministries. The word of an official that he is not a Jew is taken for granted. The writer thinks it absurd to make any distinction between a baptised Jew and a racial one.

According to Italian reports, the food situation in the territories of North Africa occupied by the Americans is deteriorating daily.

The U-boat danger along the coast of South Africa has compelled the South African Government to adopt further precautionary measures. In the port of Cape Town, shipping traffic is practically at a standstill.

4,000 Drowned

The U.S.A. Marine State Department announces the sinking of the American liner "President Coolidge," of 22,000 tons, in the South Atlantic.

Besides a great quantity of war material, there were 4,000 men on board.

According to Reuters, the "President Coolidge" is the tenth large troop transport vessel which the Americans have lost since the entry of America into the war.

This former luxury liner was a great favourite with American dollar millionaires, and is the third of the President Line to be admitted sunk by the American authorities since the attack on North Africa.

BOXER DECLINES TO QUIT

REFUSAL UPHELD BY COURT

The well-known Guernsey heavy-weight boxer, Don Le Pelley, figured in a curious case at the Royal Court on Saturday, when the Bailiff and bench of Jurats upheld him in his refusal to give up the hostelry in town of which he has for some months been the temporary licensee.

Application was made by Charles John Lynch, of "The Hollies," Grand Bouet, that the public-house licence of "The Wellington," Fountain Street, should be transferred from Le Pelley to him.

The Attorney-General (Mr. A. J. Sherwill) stated that the permanent licence was held by Mr. H. K. Waysom, who, in the early days of the war, joined the Forces and was now a prisoner. His wife took charge, but she evacuated in June, 1940. Then his mother took over, and the business was carried on by Mr. W. Symes until he was arrested by the German authorities and sent to France. Mrs. Waysom then asked the Court to grant a temporary transfer to Mr. Le Pelley, but now she wanted Mr. Lynch substituted.

EXEMPLARY.

Advocate J. E. L. Martel opposed the application on behalf of Mr. Le Pelley, who, he said, was not willing to give up the licence. The first he knew of the suggestion, added counsel, was when he saw the notice in the paper that Mr. Lynch intended to apply.

"Le Pelley," said Mr. Martel, "was granted the licence to hold until the return of Mr. Waysom, and this application is most irregular. Le Pelley has run the business in an exemplary manner, and the police agree."

Inspector Lamy confirmed this. Advocate Langlois, at the request of the Bailiff, explained that he was Mr. Waysom's legal adviser, and said that when he evacuated he (Mr. Langlois) was asked to endeavour to keep the business going.

The Bailiff: You were not supposed to stand behind the bar, I presume? (Laughter.)

"VERY UNFORTUNATE."

Eventually, proceeded Advocate Langlois, it was agreed by Mrs. Waysom, sen., that Mr. Le Pelley should take over.

"I am very satisfied with the way he has run the business," he added, "and it is very unfortunate that Mrs. Waysom feels there ought to be a change."

"She has taken it upon herself to nominate Mr. Lynch, but I personally see no reason whatsoever for it, and I think she is now rather sorry the matter has been raised."

The Bailiff: It appears to me that, as Le Pelley has been carrying on the business satisfactorily for a considerable time, and has much greater experience, there are no grounds for the application by Mr. Lynch.

The Court unanimously agreed and the application was dismissed.

Privileged G.U.B. Workers

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—With reference to your announcement in Saturday's "Star" regarding revision of G.U.B. wages, does the qualification apply only to men who are still employed by the G.U.B. or does it include all men who have suffered a reduction in wages since being dismissed by the G.U.B. and now employed by private owners?

If not, why should these privileged men employed by the States be entitled to any extra allowance and not the rest? The cost of living is the same for all whether you work for the States or others.

And now another question. Is it fair to small private owner-growers that a man who owns, say, four or five hundred feet of glass, outside ground, and a house, and is unable—through supposedly lack of financial means—to work that property on his own account, should be retained by the G.U.B., paid £2 (or more) per week, and enjoy all the other privileges that go with working for the G.U.B.—and these are many?

Would it not be more economical that the States should grant him a small loan and make him work his property on his own account? All small owners would then be placed on the same footing—i.e., earning their own living.

Otherwise, one has all the expense of trying to make a living, and paying rates, etc., to help keep the other in what is known to be a very "cushy" job.

FAIR PLAY FOR ALL.

Vale, Dec. 14, 1942.

The Women ask for a Square Deal

WHY NOT SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE?

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—May I be allowed space to say a word with regard to the distribution of cigarettes and tobacco to women?

I am delighted that complaints have been made at the way in which women are being treated, and I consider it is high time that a just deal should be given us. Let the men bear in mind that without the women to look after them, they would fare far worse.

If we pride ourselves on being just, then let us put into practice the principle of sharing and sharing alike.

Jerbourg, Dec. 14, 1942.

"WE BEAR THE BRUNT."

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—I have been interested to read the several letters in "The Star" asking for extras for the womenfolk for Christmas. Surely, the women deserve a little consideration as well as the men?

I think the powers-that-be ought to realise the difficulties we have to contend with in queuing up in the cold for hours so that the men may come home to a decent meal.

Why should the men get everything—this is not the first time it has happened—when we women bear the brunt of making ends meet on the meagre rations of today?

If the men have extra smokes why should not the women be given extra chocolate, instead of the men having smokes and chocolates as well?

Mount Durand, December 14, 1942.

ALWAYS "MOTHER."

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—Surely something in the way of an extra is going to be given to the women of this island for Christmas?

As we all know, in these days women work harder than men, preparing meals, under great difficulties, which I don't think is appreciated enough.

If anyone in the family goes short, it is always "Mother."

My suggestion is an allowance of Guernsey sweets. I hear a whisper that we are all having twopenny worth, so why not a bigger portion for the women?

St. Peter Port, Dec. 14, 1942.

"OLD MAID" DIFFERS.

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—Allow me a small space to answer "Foot-Repairs' Wife". What a selfish disposition! Most women are glad to see their men folk with a smoke after a hard day's toil. Things are hard enough without depriving them of that little pleasure.

As most men hand over their chocolate to their wives when they have a ration, the women do have a little extra; but those of a selfish disposition would like impossibilities, such as a loaf.

Being an old maid, I glory in men smokers. Puff away, sir!
