

WRECKAGE OF JAP ZERO FIGHTER PLANE; THE VICTIM OF U. S. NEW GUINEA FORCES

Major Charles Pupinas of the United States Forces in New Guinea examines the remains of a Japanese Zero fighter plane shot down in the island's jungle-covered mountains. Allied fliers have had phenomenal success battling Jap planes in the Southwest Pacific. (NOT FOR USE IN BRITISH ISLES) K-NP-X