

Tank Landing Ships (LSTs) built from plans prepared by Gibbs & Cox, Inc., lined up along the docks of a North African port, loading for the Italian invasion.