The German Underground Hospital Jersey, C.I.

The Hospital has a floor space of 27,611 square feet in the completed portion. Approximately 271,937 cubic feet of rock, that is about 13,600 tons, have been excavated from the completed part of the Hospital.

About 4,000 tons of concrete was used to line the galleries and walls.

In the central unfinished corridor the Germans have sunk a large well making the Hospital completely independent of outside sources for its water supply.

At the present time two of the wards are used as a miniature Rifle Range by two of the Island Clubs by permission of the States of Jersey.

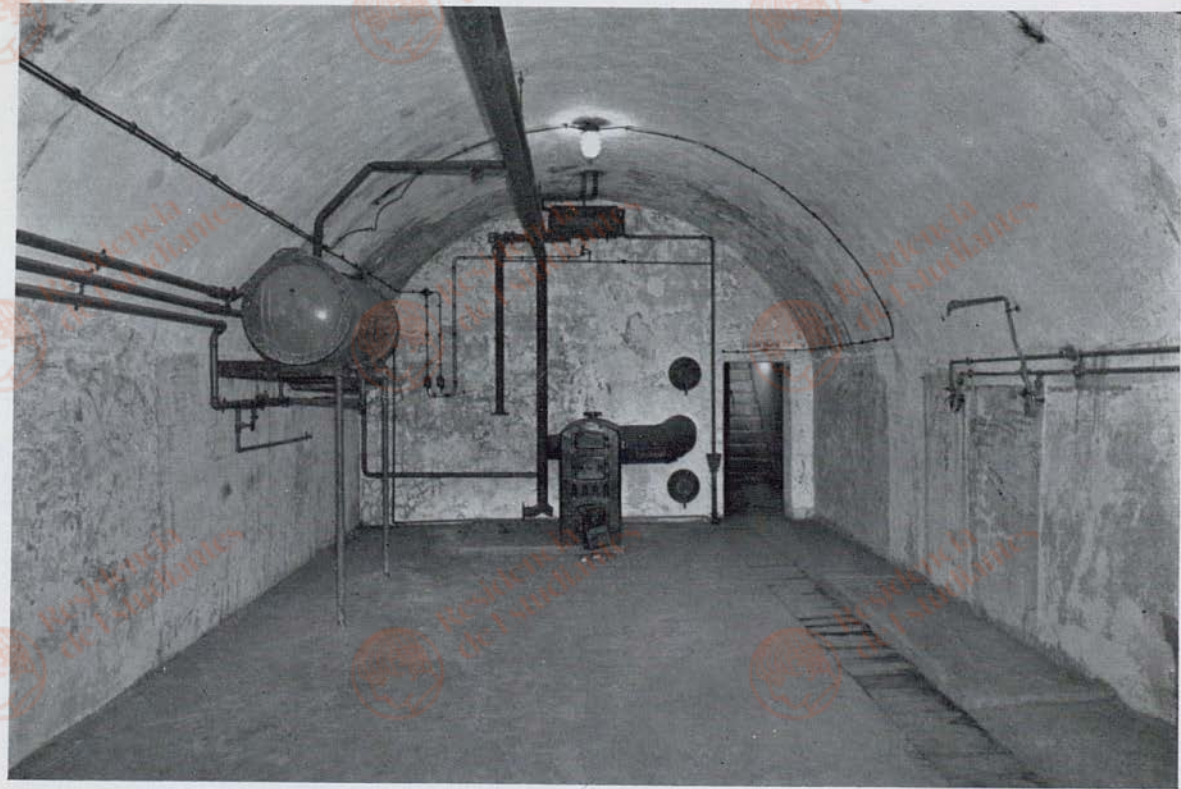

ENTRANCE GALLERY

This was intended for admitting the wounded. The alcove was to allow Ambulances to turn. Gas proof doors were fitted.

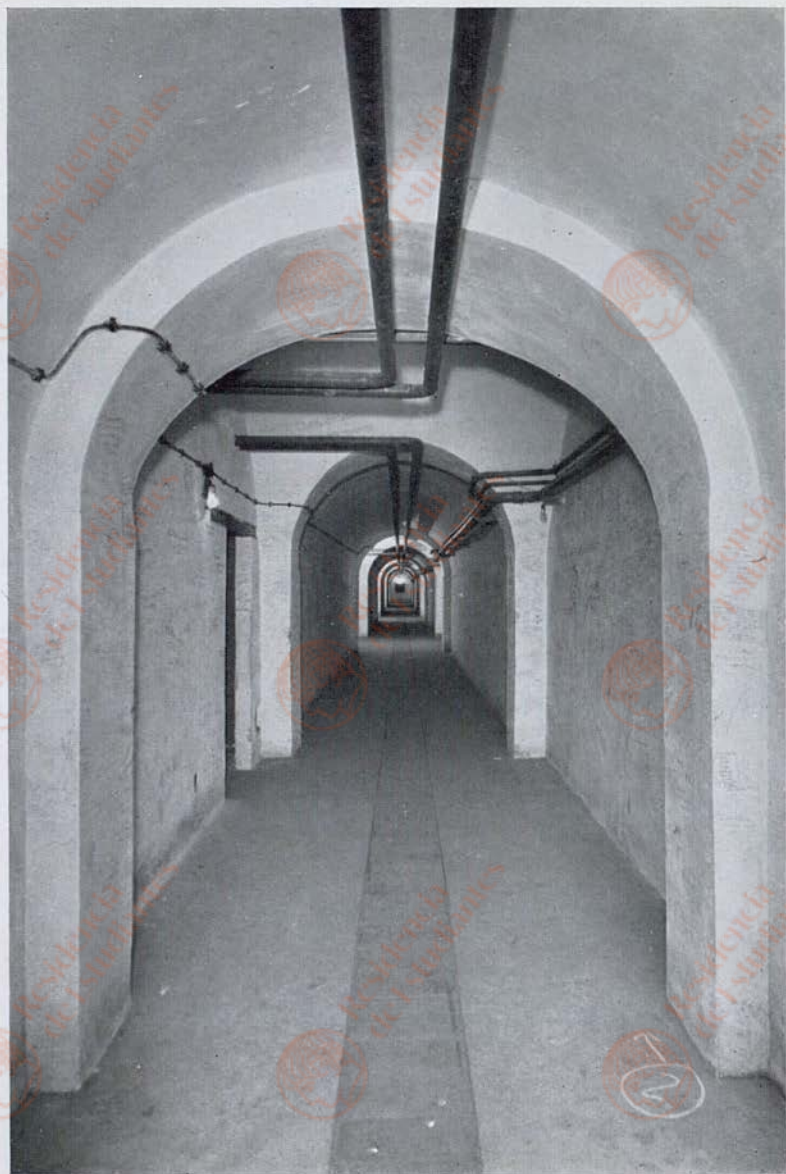

CENTRAL HEATING PLANT

As the rock keeps a natural temperature of 45 degrees this Heating Plant was sufficient to keep a steady 60 degrees.

TRANVERSE CORRIDOR

This corridor is 100 yards in length and connects the two main corridors.

UNFINISHED GALLERY

This gallery was sealed off by the Germans after bad falls of rock and great loss of life.

MAIN CORRIDOR

On both sides of this corridor are the rooms that were used as wards, etc.
