Sicilian Invaders Suffer Severely Great Losses in Men, Ships and Aircraft

Every foot of ground is being contested by the Axis defenders and severe losses inflicted on the invading Anglo-American forces in the latest fighting in the island of Sicily.

The latest report from the German Supreme Command is as follows:

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters.

July 14th, 1943.

In Southern Sicily the German and Italian troops are continuing to be involved in heavy fighting with the landed enemy troops, who, from the line of Augusta-Licata, are attempting to attack the German positions in the mountains and south of Catania.

German and Italian air formations continued their incessant attacks against the British and North-American naval forces and transport vessels with success. 34 enemy planes were shot down over the Mediterranean.

Official Italian reports give more detail concerning the campaign, as under:

Rome, July 14th, 1943.

The Italian communiqué says:

The enemy, who in his offensive is constantly using new units, succeeded in securing the coastal area from Licata up to Augusta. He pushed forward into the highland of South Sicily and stands in front of the plain of Catania.

On the whole front the Italian and German troops are engaged in heavy fighting.

During night attacks along the west of East Sicily our torpedo-carrying aircraft sank two great steamers and one destroyer, and damaged six cruisers (one heavy one), four destroyers, one great merchant ship and more smaller sea vessels.

During air combats over the island the Axis fighters brought down 11 aircraft. A further 12 aircraft have been destroyed by the artillery on Sicily and four by the artillery on Sardinia.

Seven torpedo-carrying aircraft were shot down by Italian fighters.

Fourteen of our planes failed to return from the operations of the day.

In the middle Mediterranean, one submarine under the command of Captain Lieutenant Alberto Donato (from La Spezia) sank a steamer of 15,000 gross registered tons.

Another submarine, under the command of Captain Lieutenant Pasquale Beltrane (from Savona) fired a torpedo salvo against a flotilla of destroyers, two of which were hit.

A third submarine, under the command of Captain Lieutenant Renato Scandal (from Castel Franco Emilia) torpedoed a destroyer of the Jervis class and a destroyer of the Fearless class. These four last-mentioned destroyers can be assumed sunk.

2080 SOVIET TANKS DESTROYED IN EIGHT DAYS

Berlin newspapers give prominence to the fact that the Bolsheviks lost 2,080 tanks in eight days of the Bielgorod battle. This represented the destruction of 250 tanks per day; and, moreover, all Soviet relief attacks were repelled.

A Swedish newspaper published an editorial dealing with the facts about bombing warfare. This declared that Britain's responsibility for the commencement of the air terror against civilian populations had been indisputably proved. It was of interest, said the newspaper, to recall that before the war it had been Hitler who made suggestions in favour of rendering aerial warfare more humane. It was the Western Democracies who insisted on rejecting all his proposals.

Axis air formations continued yesterday to direct low-level attacks against the enemy forces in Sicily. They also affectively bombed shipping in the vicinity of the island.

Soviet bomber formations attacked German coastal batteries in the north of Norway. German fighter aircraft shot down eight of the 12 machines, and the following night the coastal batteries destroyed another.

Reports from the South West Pacific state that strong formations of Japanese naval aircraft shot down 11 enemy planes during last week-end. Heavy losses were inflicted by Japanese forces on enemy troops which had landed on the north-west coast of New Georgia.

Another Cathedral Hit in Terror Raid Eastern Battle goes on with Great Intensity

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters, July 14th, 1943.

The German Supreme Command announces:

Strong Soviet attacks in the area of Bielgorod broke down yesterday, with extremely heavy losses for the enemy. In a single sector 2 enemy regiments were completely wiped out and numerous prisoners taken. In this sector the enemy yesterday again lost over 200 tanks.

In the area east and north of Orel the Soviets again launched fierce attacks with reinforcements. The fighting, in the course of which the enemy was not able to achieve any success, in spite of the fact that large numbers of men were sacrificed, is at present continuing with great intensity. German reserves having gone over to the counter-attack. Here, too, over 200 enemy tanks were destroyed during the last two days.

The German Air Force intervened with strong forces in the fighting on the Eastern Front, destroying numerous tanks and shooting down 212 enemy aircraft.

British bomber formations carried out a heavy terror attack against the town of Aachen last night. Great devastation was caused in the residential quarters of the inner and old parts of the town. Many public buildings and cultural monuments were destroyed. The cathedral of Aachen was hit. The civilian population suffered heavy casualties.

During the approach and return flight, as well as over the town, 21 enemy bombers were shot down.

It has now been reported that 11 four-engined bombers belonging to the enemy bomber formation which attacked Turin on the night of July 12th/13th were shot down by German anti-aircraft defences on the outward and homeward flight.

German bombers last night attacked the harbour and town of Hull, as well as targets of military importance on the south coast of Britain, with bombs of all calibres.

French General Snubbed

Guernsey, Thursday.

Surprise has been expressed at the singular reception accorded to the French General Giraud on his arrival in Washington. He had hardly reached there before the United States Secretary of State Sumner Welles departed on leave without giving the General an opportunity to pay the customary courtesy call. Another unpleasant surprise was to find that Secretary for War Stimson had gone on a trip to London, although he had previously declared he had important matters to discuss with General Giraud.

Numerous enemy warships and merchant vessels have arrived at Gibraltar in a badly-damaged condition. They had been engaged in the operations against Sicily.

Commenting on the U-boat menace, the United States Navy Secretary Knox forecast that the German submarines would soon extend their activities to new areas. In this form of warfare, he said, Germany was far superior to any other nation in the world.

During a raid by the R.A.F. on Turin, great destruction was caused in residential quarters. Churches were wrecked by incendiary and high explosive bombs, as well as a home for old people and cripples. Havoc was also wrought in a cemetery, where tombstones were torn up and graves violated.

Speaking at Columbia University Mr. Joseph Drew, formerly United States Ambassador to Tokio, warned his countrymen against under-estimating the military strength of Japan. He said that, even were America free to concentrate the entire forces at her command against the Japanese, she would be confronted by a long and most costly enterprise. Japan, he pointed out, had gained labour reserves amounting to 300,000,000 people by her acquisitions of territory in this war. Moreover, the Japanese were exceedingly industrious and thorough and possessed considerable technical and scientific skill with which they would exploit the raw material reserves now at their command.

The German Labour Front invited workers to send in suggestions for the improvement and simplification of war-important production. There was a huge response, and more than one and a half million ideas were put forward. Of these, two-thirds were entirely practicable. In this way did the workers express their confidence in their employers and political leaders and demonstrate that they are striving for victory with all their strength.

Newspapers in Switzerland yesterday published a large number of photographs showing damage caused when British aircraft dropped bombs on Swiss localities. A village south of Berne suffered exceedingly badly, and the newspapers denounced this most recent infringement of Swiss neutrality by Great Britain. Berlin newspapers comment that it was impossible to describe the episode as a mistake on the part of British pilots and condemned the raid as a deliberate outrage against International Law.

Mr. Elmer Davis, the head of the American War Information Bureau, is about to go to London for a conference with leading officials of the British Ministry of Information.

A Hungarian newspaper, discussing the German White Paper on responsibility of Britain for air warfare on civilians, remarks that in the earliest stages of the conflict the British Government hypocritically invoked the name of humanity and asserted that their aircraft operated with the utmost precision against industrial areas. It had furthermore been declared that Bomber Command was in possession of the most accurate and detailed information with regard to the location of objectives. It now transpired, said the newspaper, that Anglo-American airmen had been dropping bombs with no intention to discriminate. Their record in the destruction of churches could well be compared with that of their Bolshevik allies. This comment may be viewed in conjunction with the extremely impertinent assurance given to the Vatican by President Roosevelt that, so far as possible, he would spare the churches of Italy during the landing operations which he expected to take place. That the President of the United States should have sent such a message to the Pope was a glaring example of Jewish perfidy.

RIGHT OF INVENTION

Who was it who invented total aerial warfare? Lord Winster, the well-known speaker of the Labour Party, has just written to the "Times" as follows: "A Jewish emigrant would have us believe it was he who pointed out worthwhile targets to the Royal Air Force. But it cannot be seriously assumed that a foreign refugee was needed to put the British military wise to such things. As a matter of fact, years before the war England had a committee whose object was to lay down targets for the Royal Air Force."

Incidentally, the same Lord Winster stated a week previously: "Germany's fleet today is more dangerous than the high seas fleet of the first World War."

Plans Upset for Big Attacks East and West

How Germany Forestalled Her Foes

"For the moment, the Churchill propagandists are taking full advantage of the fact that, at long last, a move of some sort has been made by the British Government. They are not concerned with the cost or with the intrinsic value of the operations. At last something has been done to relieve the tedium which was eating into the very heart of British morale. By the time the full story can be told, that heart will be broken, for it will be a tale of vain sacrifice rendered bearable until the last hour by diligently-fostered illusions, but when that last hour comes Churchill will have accumulated a debt which no punishment could requite."

This comment on the campaign in Sicily was made by Lord Haw-Haw during his news broadcast yesterday on the Bremen radio. He prefaced his remarks with an analysis of the latest developments on the Eastern Front.

"The report from the German Supreme Command," he said, "announces that north of Bielgorod the German troops smashed two enemy tank formations and succeeded in gaining further ground. The Soviets launched counter-attacks with strong infantry and tank formations against the flanks of the German wedges which had been formed in the course of the attack. Moreover east and north of Orel a number of assaults intended to relieve the position ended in failure and resulted in extremely heavy Bolshevik losses. Some idea of the intensity which characterises the present fighting in the central sector can be gathered from the fact that in one day alone some 440 Soviet tanks and 103 aircraft were destroyed."

"It may well be said that, according to all available evidence, this is one of the greatest battles of material this war has yet seen. The combat developed suddenly at the beginning of last week. Certain local German successes in the region of Bielgorod led to Bolshevik onslaughts on a very much greater frontage extending far north of Kursk. Now it is at least possible to state quite frankly that the Soviets had been preparing an immense drive on the central sector which was to coincide with an Anglo-American offensive from the west; but as yet no such offensive has materialised. British propagandists are talking of the landing in Sicily as the prelude to mighty actions, but this one certainly does not correspond with the requirements of the Soviet Union or with Mr. Churchill's various and oft-repeated assurances that he would distract the German forces from the Eastern Front at a critical moment in the war.

"With regard to this question, it is manifest that German striking power is not being diverted from the East to the South of Europe. On the contrary, whilst the battle between Bielgorod and Orel is fiercely contested, the German forces are gaining ground and inflicting high Soviet losses such as might scarcely be expected to occur in an engagement two or three times the size. If it was the purpose of the attack on Sicily to arrest Germany in the East, it can only be said that no such object has been attained.

"Even now military circles in Berlin are reticent concerning the scope and intention of the German operations on the Eastern Front, but this much is clear: if the Soviets hoped they would be able to seize the initiative, they have failed. Furthermore, if it was the desire of Germany's enemies to synchronise their attacks, that aim also has been frustrated.

"From the Sicilian theatre there is still little news as to the course of the operations. The German war communiqué indicates that fierce fighting is in progress, and it is obvious that the defence is firm, resolute and powerful. All reports show that the Italian people have been made more united than ever by the assault upon their soil, and that it is their inflexible resolution to realise in practice the great maxims of the Fascist revolution, which can be summarised in the words: Believe, Obey and Fight. Italians are now inspired with the determination which springs from this challenge to their ancient civilisation, and they are giving proof of a valour which ranks with the greatest in their long and immortal history.

"Whilst Anglo-American propaganda is adopting in general a somewhat optimistic tone, warnings are still being issued concerning the strength of the defence and the vigour of the resistance in Sicily. All sorts of speculations are being entertained as to what ground will be chosen by the Axis Command for the main engagement, but the enemy must still continue to expend his guesswork so far as this question is concerned. It may be some days before circumstances warrant a critical analysis of the position based upon factual data. We have only reached the initial stages. German and Italian aircraft are incessantly participating in the ground fighting and bombing the landing fleets off the Sicilian coast. Heavy losses have been inflicted upon these fleets, and there can be no reasonable doubt that the enemy has already had to pay an extremely high price for his bridgeheads. On Tuesday 25 enemy planes were shot down.

"It was announced yesterday that enemy losses in shipping space had been increased by another 30,000 tons, apart from the 42,000 tons reported the previous day to have been sunk by U-boats. Thus, sinkings during the first few days of July exceeded the total achieved in June by a considerable percentage. Only a short time ago British propagandists were basing their conclusions on the assumption that the war at sea could be left out of their calculations, at least for a period; but the figures I have given concerning new tonnage losses are likely to cause them to revise that hastily-formed opinion. Moreover, there is as yet no available data as to the Anglo-American shipping losses in this Sicilian venture. It is certain they have been of no mean order."

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

Roumania will fight shoulder to shoulder with the German people "to the last drop of blood," said the Roumanian Minister of National Defence, General Pantazi, in a radio broadcast. "Since the beginning of the 18th century Roumania has been constantly exposed to the menace of an invasion from the East and today on the side of the Axis Powers is again defending her national existence. Nothing will keep us from fulfilling this solemn duty to our nation and our honour. We must all realise, with a view to this menace, that nothing is more vital for the final victory than the defeat of Bolshevism and this victory we are going to win!"

ANTI-SEMITISM

GROWING

Jewish circles in England have become increasingly uneasy over the growing anti-semitic propaganda, which has been primarily caused by various war profiteering scandals in which mainly Jewish businessmen were involved. The Government had to reject proposals to receive Jewish immigrants, particularly children, in England, because of this anti-Jewish attitude. How strong Jewish disquietude is, is shown by a declaration of Professor Brodetsky, chairman of the British Jewish Board, who demands the "immediate destruction of the anti-semitic propaganda" of the British Government.

'SWINGING THROUGH' AID FOR CHILDREN

Outstanding in this week's list of contributions to "The Star" Fund is the sum of £35 derived from the proceeds of a crossword puzzle in connection with the run of "Swinging Through" at the Lyric Theatre last week.

This was Miss Edith Howard's first venture into the realms of production, albeit she has an established and popular place in the ranks of island variety artistes; and the fact that she and her company could spare a thought for the needy boys and girls is particularly praiseworthy.

The puzzle was compiled by Mr. Douglas Coode, one of the artistes, and in forwarding the cheque he writes:

[To the Editor of "The Star".]

Sir,—As a result of the sale of my crossword puzzle at the Lyric Theatre during the run of "Swinging Through," I have very much pleasure in sending you the sum of £35 os. 5d. towards your Children's Fund.

I would like to express my thanks for your assistance in the printing of the puzzles, the members of the company of "Swinging Through," who so kindly sold the puzzles during the run of the show, and to the public who gave so generously towards your very deserving cause.

I am also sending you herewith the bar of Lifebuoy soap, which I would be obliged if you would hand to the winner of the competition, after you have opened the first correct solution.

DOUGLAS C. COODE.

"Hillside," Bosq Lane,
Guernsey.

On behalf of the children we extend thanks to Miss Howard, Mr. Coode, and their colleagues, and wish them further success with coming shows.

Also in the list is the Bailiff's regular monthly donation—an example which many more Guernsey folk might emulate—and several communal gifts.

WINNER OF THE PUZZLE

AND THE CORRECT SOLUTION

There were 55 entries for the "Swinging Through" crossword, which was cleverly constructed and contained several tricky clues.

The closing date was yesterday and, in accordance with the conditions of the competition, the entries were this morning scrutinised by the Editor of "The Star."

The first correct solution opened by him was sent by Mrs. P. H. Le Poidevin, of 97, Mount Durand, St. Peter Port, and she accordingly receives the bar of Lifebuoy soap which was offered. Will Mrs. Le Poidevin please collect her prize at "The Star" shop? Following is the correct solution of the crossword:—

SECOND MILITARY BAND CONCERT

THE PROGRAMME FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Those who enjoyed last Sunday's military band concert, and all lovers of better class music, will anticipate with pleasure the next performance by the talented combination of players who will appear under the leadership of Bandmaster Gerhard Anders, at Candie Gardens on Sunday next at 8 p.m.

A real feast of music awaits those who patronise this concert, operatic items especially predominating in the programme, the first part of which is entitled "From the realm of the opera". It opens with the Coronation March from "Die Folkunge", followed by the ever-popular Overture from "William Tell". Then come extracts from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and the first half concludes with ballet music from the opera "Undine".

The famous composer Paul Lincke supplies the material for the second part of the programme, the first item of which is the Markische Heide March. Then comes the Overture from the Operetta "Frau Luna", followed by the waltz "Disappointed Love".

An Egyptian Serenade entitled "Amina" is in turn succeeded by a character piece "Siamese parade" and the evening's entertainment will be concluded with the stirring march entitled "Folies Bergère".

MARRIED FORTY YEARS AGO

GREETINGS TO MR. AND MRS. C. R. BUSH

There is to be a quiet family celebration today in honour of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bush, of the West End Dairy, Mansell Street, who were married 40 years ago tomorrow.

It was 48 years on the 15th of last month that Mr. Bush came to Guernsey from England. It happened to be a Sunday when he arrived, and he went to Holy Trinity Church. This was the beginning of an association which, as committee member and sidesman, he has maintained uninterruptedly ever since.

It was, however, at the Town Church that Mr. and Mrs. Bush were married, she—a Miss Fisher—being a niece of Mr. Stephen Bartlett, whose business Mr. Bush subsequently took over. There have been five children, four of whom are living—Mrs. K. H. Pittard and Mr. G. Bush, who are overseas, Mrs. Rex Cowley, of Mill Street, and Mrs. Wilfred Le Page, of Grandes Rocques. There are seven grandchildren.

For some time past Mr. Bush has been in ill-health, and bedridden for the last six months.

Despite his infirmity, he will be able to join in today's party to mark his marriage anniversary, and, besides the children and grandchildren they are happy to have around them, Mr. and Mrs. Bush will have the greetings, congratulations and good wishes for "many happy returns" of a wide circle of island friends.

AMUSEMENTS SHUT DOWN IN JERSEY

PRECAUTION AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

As from yesterday, all places of public entertainment—dances, cinemas, plays and concerts—have been closed in Jersey until August 10th. This is being done in order to prevent the spread of disease, particularly diphtheria.

In an announcement to the public, the Medical Officer of Health states that, although the diphtheria epidemic is now less severe there is a serious danger of a great increase in severity next autumn and winter.

A large number of children under 14 have been inoculated but there are many who have not and it is particularly important that this should be done in the age group from one to six years, for it is at this age that children are most susceptible. The co-operation of the public is earnestly asked for and arrangements have been made to make the carrying out of inoculation as easy as possible for them.

GUERNSEY IMMUNE.

"Inoculation", says the M.O.H., "is the surest way to prevent diphtheria. Less than one in a thousand of those inoculated contract diphtheria, and when they do the disease is extremely mild".

Commenting on the situation, the Jersey "Evening Post" writes: "In Guernsey 100 per cent. inoculation has been carried out and the result is that no restrictions whatever have to be imposed on entertainments in that island. The more fully the Jersey public co-operate in this measure to prevent the spread of disease the sooner will the authorities be able to lift the ban on local entertainments."

The Widows' Mite

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—My Pension is 26s. 8d. a week. When I had to go the College I was asked if I could not manage on 15s. a week. I said I could not live on 15s. a week, and so I was given 20s. a week on which to live.

There is now more than £50 owing to me, and still I have only £1 a week.

WHY LYRIC IS TO RAISE PRICES

"High Standard Must be Maintained"

"The Star" has been approached by the Management of the Lyric Theatre with an explanation of the reasons for the increase in prices of admission which was announced in our issue of Saturday last.

In the first place it is pointed out that the new rates will not affect the working man, or at least only to a microscopic degree, as the increase on the lowest priced seats is only one half-penny. On the two other scales of charges the rise is 6d. and 10d. each respectively.

Briefly, it is felt that owing to the restrictions imposed by the limited seating capacity these rates of admission must be charged if the high standard of entertainment established by the Lyric Theatre is to be maintained. We understand that for some time past a loss has been entailed by the lower scale of charges, and that the present action has only been taken after careful consideration and an intensive but unsuccessful search for any alternative.

LONG OVERDUE.

Statistics prepared by the Management show that in the past the price of admission has not been on an economic basis in proportion to the seating capacity of the theatre, and the increase now made is actually long overdue.

Having explained the position from the financial point of view Messrs. Campbell and Snelling then stressed the value of the entertainment offered. In order to keep up the high grade reputation of this house they are compelled to pay high prices to the artistes, but they contend that the public would sooner pay a trifle more to see a good show than a lower rate for inferior entertainment. They definitely refuse to lower the high standard which the Lyric has set and which it is their policy to maintain.

At this time of the year there is no shortage of amusements, and the Lyric Management are therefore taking advantage of this to close down for three weeks, during which there will be no performances. During the week commencing July 19th to 24th however the booking office will be open as usual for the convenience of permanent bookings who wish to re-register their seats on the new scale.

[Note to Correspondent—A Sarnian. Your letter was received after the above information had been given us which we think covers all the points raised.—Editor.]

"REFRESHMENT AFTER TOIL"

WORKER'S REPLY TO A GROWER

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir,—It was with amusement, tempered to some extent with indignation, that I read "Islander's" letter in Saturday's edition. I wonder that he did not advise the Labour Officer to close churches and libraries—during the growers' busy period. He should realise from the start that many people on the island are engaged in essential services which do not entail them working from dawn to dusk, as is the farmers' lot. Never-the-less, these folk are an important cog in the economic wheel of everyday life.

Also, he might be interested to know that concentrated mental work is every bit as fatiguing as manual labour, more so in some respects.

Recreation has as one definition in the dictionary: "refreshment after toil". As such, it is essential to the well-being of any community. How that recreation is sought rests entirely with the individual. Some prefer the cinema or theatre, while others "put their hands to work", taking up gardening or any other activity to which they are suited.

As regards the cycling and sunbathing aspects—when a person is employed in a shop or office, (and some have to be, even in these days) they long to be out in the open-air and sunlight. This longings find expression in those "deadly vices"—sunbathing, swimming and cycling, etc.—so despised by your correspondent.

When "Islander" started out in life as a grower, it was no doubt on his own volition. He was aware of the long hours and hard labour (and no doubt the profits) so involved. Now is not the time to turn back or air his complaints—at any rate, to the detriment of others.

Young people will never be encouraged "back to the land" by people such as "Islander". Working long hours for small return is a thing of the past. Planned recreation is to play a large part in future generations. Even now we are all familiar with the "Strength through Joy movement" and many other organisations devoted to make a better and happier worker by "giving him a good time".

Finally, if "Islander" has any leisure moments might I advise him to practise tolerance. If this was more prevalent in the world today, there would be less strife.

Sugar for Jam?

To the Editor of "The Star."

Sir—Are we to have extra sugar, as in previous years, for jam making? If so, when? Loganberries and fallen apples cannot wait long.

SPEAK NOW.

Who Wants Eggs?

Local poultry are working overtime in the interests of the Help-the-Children Fund. Within the last few days generous owners of equally generous hens have between them brought us no fewer than ten eggs as gifts in aid of the boys and girls.

These eggs must be disposed of immediately; therefore, they will go to the contributor who makes the highest offer, either individually or collectively, for the eggs by 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Please let us have your contributions early and often. There is no limit.

LOOKING AHEAD TO SOCCER

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE S.F.A.

The annual general meeting of the Sarnian Football Association was held at the Constables' Office last Friday evening.

Mr. Wilfred Corbet, the President, was in the chair, supported by Mr. Eric Snelling (vice-president), Mr. C. P. Guilbert (hon. financial secretary), and delegates from all clubs except Torteval Rovers. A member of the Referees Association was also present.

The secretary read his report on the year's activities as well of the financial position of the S.F.A., and it was received with approbation by all present, a vote of thanks being accorded to Mr. Guilbert.

Messrs. W. Corbet (president) and E. Davies and Eric Snelling (vice-presidents) were re-elected, whilst a new official in Mr. L. J. Collette, was elected to facilitate Mr. Guilbert's onerous duties.

SELECTION COMMITTEE.

Messrs. E. Davies and E. P. Rault, the hon. fin. sec., were re-elected as Fixtures Committee for yet another year. Mr. H. F. Sallin and Mr. H. C. Chapple were re-elected with a vote of thanks as auditors.

The Selection Committee now comprises, Messrs. S. Collins, H. Torode, E. P. Rault (re-elected), W. J. Warr, senr., R. J. Le Huray and G. Robinson.

Prospects for next season will be discussed at the next Council Meeting on Monday, August 16th.

In the interval the application of clubs desirous of entering the S.F.A. League will be received up till Saturday, August 14th by Mr. C. P. Guilbert at Grande Rue, St. Saviour's.

Neutral linesmen was another subject discussed, and this idea will put into operation for a month's trial when the new season begins.

CAMP MURATTI WON BY GUERNSEY

BATHING "POOL" COMES INTO USE

Further cheery news comes from Mr. Frank E. Stroobant, Camp Captain at L. in Southern Germany.

Writing to Mr. Alan Mackay, he says:—

Best wishes from all at L.—to all friends in Guernsey. You are constantly in our thoughts and, although we must admit we are concerned for your well-being and safety, it is our united hope that Guernsey men will soon see the "silver lining" that peace alone can bring.

Camp life still continues up and down. The last fortnight has been miserable owing to a sequence of wind and thunderstorms, together with excessive rain, from midsummer to midwinter within one hour, but we always have the warning wind gusts first.

Very successful sports meeting on Whit-Monday marred by weather, but day passed well under circumstances. After 1-1 draw, the Muratti replay ended in 6-1 Guernsey victory. Ted Whitford (capt.), S. A. White, W. Whare, D. Bisson, W. Arrowsmith (scored 3), A. Winterflood, F. Stroobant (goalkeeper), splendid game, score flattering to winners. Charles Daniel splendid ref.

Must mention excellent work of Joe Eveson and Aubrey Heaume (works officers) responsible for allocation all fatigues.

Hope Mr. Henry now with you. Best wishes to all late L.—ites. Yesterday was extremely hot and, with settled weather promised, our bathing "puddle", 12ft. x 12ft. x 5ft. deep approx., pressed to maximum use. Standing baths will be the order of the day. If anyone risks horizontal position, it is their responsibility.

Regular mail between Garland and myself enables our camps to keep closely associated. They all seem well and happy there, and as we are optimistic, so are they.

EUCHRE LEAGUE

COSSARITES GO TO THE TOP

CLOSE STRUGGLE BETWEEN LEADERS

Changes among the top teams of the Euchre League are still being wrought as a result of the latest games.

The threat of the Cossarites to the leaders, the Riffs, materialised in last week's matches, and they now go to the head of affairs.

When these rivals met, the Riffs went down by 11-9. This change will stimulate even greater interest in future games, as the Cossarites, Riffs, Skyhawks and Independents all have a chance of gaining final honours.

Centrals lost again to the Independents, so they are now well tucked in at the bottom of the table.

Players with the highest averages in 17 games are W. J. Collins (O.K.'s) and A. Mahy (Riffs) who have obtained 52 apiece. They are closely followed by C. F. Robert ("Press") with 51.

W. Wallbridge (Magpies) and W. Machon (Cossarites) have completed eleven points during the past three weeks.

Would You Like Photograph of Children?

Considerable interest was created by the publication in "The Star" on Tuesday of the photograph of the Channel Isles Children's Christmas party "somewhere in England".

In response to requests from parents, a number of these photographs have been printed on art paper and copies may be obtained at "The Star" shop.

The minimum price is 6d. each, but those who can pay more are urged to do so, as all the proceeds will go to "The Star" Fund.

BEKANNTMACHUNG

VERSCHIEDENE Vorkommnisse machen es erforderlich, dass Aufrufe und Sammlungen aller Art zu wohltätigen Zwecken, gleich, ob öffentlich oder privat, der Genehmigung der Feldkommandantur 515 unterstellt werden.

Aus diesem Grunde wird hiermit angeordnet, dass von den jeweils für solche Aufrufe und Sammlungen Verantwortlichen eine schriftliche Anzeige mindestens 10 Tage zuvor an die Feldkommandantur 515 einzureichen ist.

Darin müssen sämtliche Einzelheiten über Art, Zweck, Dauer, Zeit, Ort und Durchführungsform enthalten sein.

Unter diese Anzeigenpflicht fallen jedoch nicht die Sammlungen, welche in Kirchen und Kappellen während des Gottesdienstes vorgenommen werden.

Baseball

Last night the Centrals caused a minor sensation at Beau-Sejour, when, after forcing as many as three extra innings they were beaten by the Casuals by the narrow margin of one run.

For one, did not even as much as surmise that the Centrals were capable of such an achievement. The majority of the spectators released audible sighs of disappointment when Eddie Martel, of the Casuals, came in to make the final run which terminated the game at 12-11.

All through, the game was even, and neither team got very far ahead of the other. The greatest margin which separated them at any time was only three runs, at the first to the 7th, where the Centrals held an 8-5 advantage. At the last to the 6th the score was 11-11.

BRILLIANT CATCHING.

C. Wood, the Centrals' right field, brought off a beautiful catch when Martel hit a ball in his direction. He followed up this piece of work with almost a catch an innings; a few of his victims being Le Pelley, Mallett and Smith. Wood was brilliant.

Other players outstanding were Harry Attewell, playing at first base for the losers; Dumaresq, the captain of the side at 2nd, Roy Tostevin at centre field, Eric Field at right field, and F. Lohmiller catcher. Tostevin hit the solitary homer of the evening.

E. Chick played a good game for the Casuals in the field, whilst the best hitters were Mallett, Smith, Le Pelley, Martel and E. Chick.

Mr. S. E. Cherry's umpiring was exemplary and his rejoinders to bar-rackers in themselves good fun and entertainment!

HOME RUN.

To Parents and Retailers

All vouchers issued by the Fund will lose validity at the end of this month.

Families desirous of receiving for their children the Fund's gifts after that date must register at once on the new Forms of Application now on issue at "The Star" office.

Mothers whose husbands are absent from the island should ask for the special Blue Application Form.

In view of the very large demand on the Fund, it is particularly requested that parents should not apply for the Fund's gifts to children if they can manage otherwise.

By so doing, they will enable the Fund to give more assistance to the most deserving cases.

HER 88th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Thomas Warr, of St. Sampson's, yesterday celebrated her 88th birthday by giving a tea-party which was attended by her daughter, Mrs. Alice Allcock, her grandson, Mr. Kenneth Allcock, and neighbours and friends.

There was a birthday cake and numerous flowers, and Mrs. Warr, who remains in remarkably good health, received many greeting cards.
