British Bomber Formations Scattered in Central Germany

Surprise Attacks Sweep off Soviets

From the Fuehrer's Headquarters,
January 15th, 1944.

The German Supreme Command
announces:—

To the north-east of Kertsch, in the bridgehead of Nikopol and south-west of Dnepropetrovsk strong Soviet attacks collapsed. In the course of these operations 46 enemy tanks were destroyed.

North-west of Kirovograd, as well as in the sectors east and south of Sharshoff the German troops flung back the Bolsheviks in counter-attacks. Enemy attacks remained ineffective.

South-west of Pogrebishche the German counter-attacks are progressing favourably. Fifteen enemy tanks and 23 guns were destroyed in the course of this fighting.

To the west of Berdichev formations of the Waffen SS smashed two enemy regiments in counter-attacks and caused heavy losses to the Soviets.

The strong enemy pressure in the area west of Novograd-Wolynsk and west of Sarny continues.

In the battle area west of Rechitsa repeated Soviet attacks were repulsed. Enemy battle groups which had thrust ahead, were thrown back in counter-attack.

Near Vitebsk renewed Soviet attempts at break-through, supported by tanks and battle aircraft, broke down. Local penetrations were sealed up.

To the north and north-west of Nevel, as well as north of Lake Ilmen, the Bolsheviks continued their attacks. The enemy broke through at a few points, but was flung back in counter-attack.

On January 15th, 72 Soviet aircraft were shot down on the Eastern Front as against three German losses.

On the South Italian front the strong enemy attacks in the sector north of Cervaro were repulsed in hard fighting. Embittered fighting is still in progress at a point of penetration.

In the heavy fighting in the area north-west of Mignano the 2nd battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 15, under the command of Captain Meitzel, as well as the 2nd Battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 71, under the command of Captain Schneider, greatly distinguished themselves. Both battalions hailed from Hessen/Thueringen.

In the evening hours yesterday a few German aircraft attacked targets in South-Eastern England.

larily heavy losses for the enemy. Several Bolshevik relief attacks were repulsed.

In spite of stubborn enemy resistance the German counter-attacks south-west of Pogrebishche gained further ground.

In the fighting to the west of Berdichev the enemy lost 116 guns in the course of the past two days, as well as numerous lorries and other war material.

Lively local fighting is reported from the Novograd-Volynsk area and from the area west of Sarny.

In the battle area west of Rechitsa the German troops in a counter-attack flung back the Soviet assault troops which had thrust across the Pripet.

To the west of Krichev Bolshevik attacks were frustrated.

South-east of Vitebsk the Soviets repeatedly attacked with strong forces. A penetration was sealed up after 27 enemy tanks had been destroyed.

North-west and north of Nevel, as well as north of Lake Ilmen, the Bolsheviks continued their attacks. The enemy broke through at a few points, but was flung back in counter-attack.

South of Leningrad the Soviets attacked with the support of tanks and battle-planes. They were repulsed. In one sector fighting is still in progress with an enemy combat group which broke through.

In the Oranienbaum area all Soviet attacks were frustrated again yesterday.

On January 15th, 72 Soviet aircraft were shot down on the Eastern Front as against three German losses.

On the South Italian front the strong enemy attacks in the sector north of Cervaro were repulsed in hard fighting. Embittered fighting is still in progress at a point of penetration.

In the heavy fighting in the area north-west of Mignano the 2nd battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 15, under the command of Captain Meitzel, as well as the 2nd Battalion of the Tank Grenadier Regiment No. 71, under the command of Captain Schneider, greatly distinguished themselves. Both battalions hailed from Hessen/Thueringen.

In the evening hours yesterday a few German aircraft attacked targets in South-Eastern England.

Second Front Appointments

President Roosevelt has addressed a wireless message to the American people in which he declared that:—

"Our decisions imply the creation of a Second Front in which will be engaged our troops, who will attempt the invasion of the Western Continent. This attack will take place at the same time as the Soviet Army will be carrying on its offensive on the Eastern Front. We must not conceal that these operations shall be very costly to the 'Allies.'

"General Eisenhower has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Anglo-American forces for the Second Front, and shall be replaced in his functions as Supreme Chief of the Mediterranean Sector by the British General, Sir Maitland Wilson."

It is also announced that General Alexander has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Anglo-American Armies in Italy, and that General Montgomery will be in command of the group of British armies previously under General Eisenhower.

General Spaatz will be in charge of all the American Bombardment Squadrons which operate against Germany.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson, a member of the Military Commission of the Senate declared that, from information received from a reliable source the United States would supply at the least, 75 per cent of the troops for the attack of Europe.

A spreading anti-Semitic feeling is rising in the U.S.A. is reported rather alarmingly by the Jewish news agency "Site." This feeling is strongest in the business areas of Boston, Chicago and New York, where more than 100 Jewish businesses are being boycotted.

Soviet Demands to Poland

According to the London "Sunday Dispatch," the renewal of diplomatic relations between the Soviets and the Polish Phantom Government in London cannot be accepted by the Soviets until the formal condition that Poland renounces to all claims on the southern portion of its territory has been complied with. On the other hand Poland may keep the wooded regions between Vilna and Livov.

The Soviets demand the resignation of General Sasinkojski, Polish Minister of Defence, who is supported by the Nationalist centres of the Polish Army.

The exiled Polish Government has replied that it would not accept any decision imposed by a third party, and that it desired to see all the frontier problems settled after the war.

The correspondent of the "Glasgow Herald" reports that for months now no corn has been sold in the open market in Southern Italy. Black-market bread can be purchased at prices 40 times above normal. The inhabitants are advised to go on a "hunger diet."

News and Comments From All Sources

The U.S.A. Navy Minister, Knox, declared at a Press Conference, according to a Reuter report from Washington, that it was ridiculous to believe that the Japanese were afraid of the Americans.

The population of 65 Italian towns and villages were subjected to terror-attacks by the Anglo-Americans in the month of December, 1943. 2,000 houses were destroyed and many civilians were killed or seriously wounded.

It is announced that during the terror-bombing of Rimini, numerous valuable cultural monuments were either completely or partly destroyed. Amongst them are the town hall, a building of the 5th Century, the city theatre, the Church of St. Augustin, a real gem of architectural art, the old fortress of Malatesta, and the Palazzo Latini.

Subhas Chandra Bose, Chief of the Provincial Government "Free India," has announced that the seat of his Government will be in Burma. The Indian Independence Movement has now reached its peak.

The authorities in the district of Ahmedabad (India) have, according to a Reuter report, enforced a four-day curfew for the whole town from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m., following incidents at a yearly Mohammaden celebration. In various parts of the town the police were forced to use tear gas to enforce order. The policemen were stoned.

News spread in Lisbon reports that British naval forces have landed at Madeira, but this is not confirmed by the Portuguese authorities. Other reports state that Mr. Churchill has the intention of wintering in the Island during his convalescence. Taking this into consideration, it seems that this Occupation is to assure protection for the British Prime Minister.

Radio Algiers reports that the emigrant Governments of Yugoslavia and Greece have settled certain joint territorial claims with Italy.

That Victor Emmanuel and Badoglio consent to go into such nonsensical discussions at all proves that the last King of the House of Savoy is still prepared to commit acts of treachery against his own country.

William Joyce Reveals:

German Air Defences Much Strengthened

Have Britons Any Idea of their Government's Policy?

William Joyce put a serious question to the English-speaking world in his broadcast from Germany at 1.30 on Saturday afternoon. It was "Have the English people the least idea of what they are fighting for and the direction of their Government's policy?"

This followed his disclosing of an interview between Mr. McGhie and Mr. Vernon Bartlett, broadcast by the B.B.C. that morning. McGhie observed to Vernon Bartlett that the first thing the British must recognise was that there was no such thing as an established Polish frontier, east or west. On that Joyce exclaimed: "Well—I should like to ask what the English would have said had they heard such an outstanding admission made on September 1st, 1939—that there was no natural or historical frontier in Poland!" Joyce further revealed that

McGhie had said to Vernon Bartlett that the Allies were not fighting for the restoration of the map as it stood five years ago, upon which Joyce continued: "Have the English the least idea of what they are fighting for and what is really the direction of their aims and policy?"

Joyce commented, as usual, on the latest phases of the gigantic struggle going on along the Eastern Front. In the past two days the Germans had accounted for 355 Soviet machines. It was obvious that Stalin had decided for various reasons to try to break-through the German lines and so be able to force a decision rapidly. Germany was not anxious about the future. The Soviets knew quite well that she did not need to detach forces on the Eastern Front to meet the threatened invasion on the Western Front; Germany was fully prepared to meet the Second Front there, when it took place. But the question of whether the Allies would establish that long-spoken-of Second Front in Europe was still an open question to the speaker. Certainly, Churchill had given the pledge to Stalin at the Teheran Conference that the great attempts would be made, and later it was disclosed that the time and place were settled. Stalin was watching events closely. Part of his policy was to have England so weakened that any claims she would wish to make later, or any conditions advanced, would be by that weakness worthless of any consideration or respect.

Continuing, Joyce observed that Major Oliver Stewart had laid it down that the Anglo-American forces must have air supremacy established on the Continent before they could think of landing an invading army there, and until that time, no supremacy could be attained by them.

Meanwhile fantastic statements were being made by the Americans in regard to the losses of the German Luftwaffe; some actually going the length of asserting that the German Air Force had practically ceased to exist! But such an expert as Major Oliver Stewart entertained no such illusion, and, indeed, wrote of new weapons which the Luftwaffe were using with such disastrous effects. There was, agreed Joyce, a striking proof of this in the air battle of last Tuesday, and there was reason to suppose the Allies would soon feel more of this, for the German air defences had been greatly strengthened of recent months, and what would the Allies think of the position then?

Concluding on the note of the interview given on the B.B.C. that morning, Joyce said that if the Polish Government turned down the offer made them, they could not prevent the Russians in Poland having a Government more to their own liking. The point, however, was that Germany would not be broken up, yet nothing would prevent the Russians taking what they liked in Poland—and they would like a lot," salvoed Joyce with emphasis in a parting "broadside" that re-echoed through the world of listeners-in.

Helping the Disabled

At the instigation of Dr. Ley, the Head of the German Labour Front, a special institution has been founded for the study and care of injuries to workmen. In addition to the scientific observation and treatment of bodily injuries sustained while at work and their consequences, the object of the Institution is to discover ways and means of encouraging and helping the disabled to use what physical powers they still possess.

To this end the Institution is fitted apart from the latest clinical equipment, with workshops and an agricultural section where the maimed are given an opportunity of learning to do what jobs are within their respective powers. During the war the Institution, as far as it is already completed, has been placed at the disposal of the war-wounded.

Dr. Ley, who recently opened the building addressed an assembly of soldiers and stated that the original aim of the Institution was to mitigate the lot of disabled workers but was now being placed at the disposal of the men wounded on active service who were faced with similar problems as those who sustained injuries while at work.

HEAVY FINES FOR OVERCHARGING

John Raymond Holbeck, 43, a shop-keeper, of 33, Pollet Street, was charged with selling, through an agent, at Pollet Street, on January 8th, 1944, a child's tri-cycle for RM 250, such price being in excess of the permitted retail price. Further, for failing to price such goods in clearly legible figures.

Accused pleaded guilty.

This case was taken in conjunction with the following one:-

Cyril Lorier, 20, a shop-assistant, of Bouet, St. Peter-Port, was charged with (1) selling a child's tri-cycle for RM 250, such price being in excess of the permitted retail price; (2) failing to mark the price of such goods in clearly legible figures; (3) failing to affix the appropriate Sales Tax Stamps payable under the Law; (4) failing to affix revenue stamps to the receipt issued.

Lorier stated he did not think Sales Tax applied to bicycles, and had never seen revenue stamps.

Inspector A. P. Lamy stated that the tri-cycle was valued at £3 14s. 6d.

Holbeck declared that he had had to pay a heavy price for it.

The Attorney-General stated he took a very serious view of this case, and suggested a fine of £50 or three months' imprisonment on the first charge against Mr. Holbeck, and £20 or two months' imprisonment on the second.

The first two charges against Lorier were dropped. The Attorney-General suggested penalties of £20 or two months' imprisonment and £5 or one month's imprisonment in the case of Lorier.

Holbeck was fined £50 or three months' imprisonment, and £20 or two months' imprisonment respectively.

Lorier was fined £20 or two months' imprisonment, plus the appropriate Sales Tax, and £5 or one month's imprisonment.

CURFEW, AND CARD CASES

Patricia Raleigh, 16, a domestic, of 1, Victoria-terrace, was fined £1 or 8 days' imprisonment, and 5s. or 2 days' imprisonment respectively, for being out during Curfew hours, and failing to produce her Identity Card.

William Alfred Baker, 21, a labourer, of 11, Rougerval-road, St. Peter-Port, was fined 5s. or 2 days' imprisonment for failing to produce his Identity Card.

PRISON FOR FAILING TO KEEP PEACE

Albert Francis Ferbrache, a labourer, of "Chamont," Rohais, was charged with belaying in a disorderly manner at the Emergency Hospital, at about 1.30 p.m. on January 16, 1944. Also being a person bound over on December 31, 1943, to keep the peace did fail to keep the conditions of his recognisances.

Accused pleaded Not Guilty.

Matron Rabey declared that she saw the accused tapping on a kitchen window and using bad language.

Ferbrache declared he called to leave a message for Miss Warne. He did not know he used obscene language as he was drunk.

The Magistrate sentenced Ferbrache to one week's imprisonment on the first charge and to one month's imprisonment on the second. "Your promise not to molest Miss Warne still stands," added the Magistrate.

HANAFIN TRIAL RESUMED

In the Royal Court on Saturday morning further progress was made in the trial of James Hanafin, indicted for having stolen from Mr. Abdul Ghani's house the sum of £155 11s. 2d. sterling.

Advocate W. H. Langlois (defending counsel), declared that from the beginning his client maintained a plea of Not Guilty. There was no direct evidence, nothing but circumstantial evidence of a flimsy nature.

The law relating to circumstantial evidence was then quoted at length. "I cannot conceive," he continued, "that Hanafin would stop about 200 yards from the house (as witnesses for the prosecution had said he was) at the very time Ghani would be in the locality." No one had seen the accused enter the house or coming out. The money had not been recovered and could not be associated with the money in Hanafin's possession. The presumptions of the prosecution were rash and light. The witnesses Windsor and Sweet must have mistaken the accused for someone else.

The Court adjourned the further hearing until this morning, following the Chief Pleas.

The Attorney-General addressed the Court at some length, reviewing the evidence, and submitted that Hanafin's alibi had not been proved. The circumstantial evidence led to the accused Hanafin, who, having stolen the money, must have escaped by the back way, breaking articles in doing so.

Summing up, the Bailiff said the most damning evidence against Hanafin was that of trying to alarm Hamon after proceedings had been taken with regard to the time of his visit.

HANAFIN FREED

The Court unanimously decided to give Hanafin the benefit of the doubt, and he was discharged.

Dairy Workers Sentenced

SIX MONTHS FOR STEALING AND RECEIVING MILK

The trial took place at the Court House before the Bailiff and seven Jurats on Saturday, of Henry William Simon and Garnet Claude Bellot, two men who were employed by the States Dairy Department, and who were charged with having taken milk which belonged to that Department.

THE INDICTMENTS

HENRY WILLIAM SIMON

The Acting-Attorney-General actioned Henry William Simon, son of Thomas Simon, aged 37 years or thereabouts, a native of Alderney, to be awarded such sentence, or corporal punishment that the Court would deem proper, for having—the said Simon—on his own confession, during the four months between August 15th and December 15th, 1943, or thereabouts, alone or with an accomplice or accomplices, taken, stolen and carried away (or, alternatively having received, concealed and had in his possession) almost daily from the States Dairy Depot situated at La Ramée, St. Peter-Port (where the said Simon was employed by the Department as a worker) two pots, or thereabouts, of milk belonging to that Department.

On December 31st, 1943, the said Simon pleaded not guilty of the first charge, but admitted his guilt of the alternative charge of receiving, and then chose Advocate W. H. Langlois to be his Counsel.

GARNET CLAUDE BELLOT

The Acting-Attorney-General actioned Garnet Claude Bellot, son of George, aged 41, or thereabouts, a native of this Island, for having—on his own confession—during the four months between August 15th and December 15th, 1943, or thereabouts, alone, or with an accomplice or accomplices, taken, stolen and carried away daily from the States Dairy Depot at La Ramée, of which the said Bellot was in charge, two pots, or thereabouts, of milk belonging to the States Department.

CASE FOR PROSECUTION

Opening the case, the Attorney-General said he proposed to drop the charge of theft against Simon and only pursue the alternative charge. The Court approved. It was revealed that after enquiries had been made at the Ramée Milk Depot, Bellot admitted taking milk daily. Simon, on being questioned, admitted receiving milk. In a statement made to P. Sgt. Pugh, the Attorney-General continued, Bellot declared he had taken two pots of whole milk a day since Simon had been working with him and given it to Simon.

The Police Inspector said that there were no previous convictions against Bellot. In the case of Simon, he had been found guilty in December 1941, of stealing tea from Le Riche's.

The Attorney-General, giving his conclusions, stated that Bellot had been honest up to the time when Simon started working with him. Nevertheless, he was the foreman, and therefore responsible.

Simon had apparently led Bellot "off the rails." "In the case of Simon," he concluded, "I ask for a term of imprisonment of six months and a similar penalty for Bellot."

Advocate W. H. Langlois, on behalf of the accused, observed that each prisoner had made a full confession. A statement made by Mr. W. J. Rugg (a former employer of Bellot), gave Bellot an excellent character. "The men are not habitual criminals," the defending Counsel concluded, "but are guilty of a serious lapse."

The Bailiff, summing-up, declared that these men, employed in the proper distribution of whole milk, had stolen it, thereby preventing it reaching the persons who needed it. "Although Simon may have persuaded Bellot, Bellot is responsible for the crime. I do not see that six months is more than they deserve; to give less, I think the Court would not be doing their duty," he concluded.

The Court unanimously decided on the conclusions, each man to serve six months at hard labour.

CHIEF PLEAS

The Court of Chief Pleas following Christmas, was held at the Royal Court House at 11 o'clock this morning. Victor G. Carey, Esq., Bailiff, presided, and the roll was called by Mr. A. J. Roussel (H.M.'s Greffier).

The renewal en bloc of Provisional Ordinances was obtained and the report on Controlled Streams was accepted. The Attorney-General obtained the renewals of the Villiaz, L'Erée, and Alderney Aerodromes on the same conditions as before, and the licences for Explosives were renewed. The report from the Constable of the Vale on the condition of the Hougue Ricart Quarry was accepted.

Funeral

The funeral took place on Thursday, at the Foulon Cemetery, of Miss Selina Frampton. The Rev. Wm. Kilshaw, A.K.C., officiated. Those present were Mrs. W. Frampton and Miss Byrne. The funeral was of a private nature. There was one beautiful floral cross from Wil, Ella and Flo. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Messrs. I. C. Fuzzey, Ltd., whose Mr. C. H. Fuzzey personally supervised.

Save Fuel, Syrup-Making!

Housewife writes to point out that those who make sugar beet syrup and have hay-boxes should use them in the process and so save much fuel. She observes that having brought the cut-up beets to boil in saucepans she places the saucepans for 12 hours in the hay-box; returns them to boil over a fire, then puts the saucepans in the hay-box for a further 12 hours, when the beets are ready to be strained. "This method saves me much money," she concludes.

At the close of the evening's entertainment, one of the patients, in a neat little speech, thanked Mr. Keyho and his friends on behalf of the audience.

Second Distribution of Paraffin

IT is now possible to make a distribution of a further half gallon of Paraffin to the two categories (a) and (b) specified in the Paraffin Order, 1943, and the necessary stocks will be available at the various distribution depots on the 28th January, 1944. Those householders and/or farmers whose applications were approved for the issue made in 1943 are permitted to draw a similar amount from the same depot as before. No fresh application is required but should any change in the distribution depot be desired, advice thereof must reach the States Controller for Petroleum supplies, Ladies' College, before the 21st January, 1944.

All other conditions laid down in the Paraffin Order, 1943, remain in force, with the exception that the price to the consumer of this second distribution will be 6/10d. per gallon.

Notice to Farmers

A QUANTITY of Sulphate of Ammonia has arrived from France recently. Farmers are advised to manure their grazing fields now with a dressing of up to 56 lbs. a vergée. This will ensure an early bite for grazing cattle.

A mixture of Muriate of Potash and Sulphate of Ammonia is also procurable, this mixture being an excellent manure for next season's hay crop.
