Arches Hall,
Standon,
Herts.

My dear Tiger:

This will come as a surprise to you. I have been able to find out your address from Dickie Richardson.

I am writing to you now to explain that I have taken the liberty of giving your name to a fellow Collins author named Richard Collier. He is writing a book about the heavy air raid on London on the night of the 10th.-11th. May, 1941, and he is most interested in talking to anybody who was at H.Q.F.C. at that time. I have suggested to him that he might like to get in touch with you for an impression of the Operations Room. You might even have been on duty that night. If you were, that would be of very great help to him.

I trust that you are well. Clifford Mollison was here to see me yesterday, and he joins me in sending you our kindest regards.

Yours ever,

Robert Wright
