Dear Bob

I have just returned from a most enjoyable three and a half week tour in South Africa and have only just now read your draft of the article for the "Sunday Times."

I think it is excellent and I only have one or two points to question.

On page 9. The interception was made while I was under Sector Control - not G.C.I. I seem to remember seeing the Southampton Guns firing at an incoming aircraft and as the searchlights continued for a time to track it northwards out of the Gun Zone I asked Wallop for permission to go and investigate. Our contact was made while I was below cloud and after the greater part of the interception had been (in cloud) done I came out on top of cloud and then eventually saw the shape and exhaust flames.

I believe Branse Burbridge never finally took Holy Orders but remained as a school

Twenty should be twenty-one years ago. I must be getting old!

I read the centre page spread in the Bookseller with interest and only hope for yours and Jimmy's sake that "Night Fighter" is successful.

Yours

Sincerely
John Cunningham

John Cunningham.
