Мисте Джонс! Уважаю вас как
справедливого и пристрастного
юриста. Уважаю Морриса за его
дружескую и честную
натурę. Но уважаю Морриса
всего больше, потому что
он несет в себе честность!
Но нечестивы мои поклонники
и мы не будем с ними спорить
о том, что же такое честность
и честный человек! Уважаю
также Морриса за то, что он
занимается спортивной деятельностью
и что он несет в себе честность!

Maria Feodorovna to his son

Abass-Touman, 9th November 1897

My dear, darling Misha,

How sad and distressing it was to part from you and everything seems so senseless and disgusting without you, my charming Misha. We miss you so much ! We saw you going away, for quite a bit of time and then sadly drove home. I am sending a photograph of you departure, rather good but too dark. Baby would now mount with Melle de l'Escaille and Prince Chervachidze with Aikanov. We are very sorry that the passage was so bad and were happy that you arrived safely at Novorossiisk.

The weather here is clear again and warm during the day but in the night it freezes down to - 9°C. My thoughts are always with you my dear Mishkin and we wait impatiently for news from you as to your return, how are Nicky and Alix and how you were received by Snipe ? !

Georgy caught a slight cold a few days ago which made me quite unhappy, but fortunately he is recovering, although he did not bathe yesterday "par prudence". In the evenings, he usually eats "porridge" with pleasure and ^{we} think of you. I can imagine how happy you were to be back in dear Gatchina, but quite alone it must be sad, I think.

If you plan to go to Petersburg, you must absolutely pay a visit to uncle Misha and give him a kiss from me.

I shall be extremely sad to celebrate my birthday, for the first time without you and Xenia also. But I am so delighted to be with dear Georgie after so many years.

But now, I must finish this letter. I send you my tenderest kisses, dear Mishkin mine. Christ be with you !

With my warmest love !

Your Mummy.

Georgie and Baby send their love, Melle de l'Escaille her best regards. My greetings to your fellow travellers and Semenov too.
