By EDWARD KENNEDY

REIMS, France, May 7 (AP)—Germany surrendered unconditionally to the Western Allies and Russia at 2:41 a. m. French time today.

(This was at 8:41 p. m., Eastern War Time, Sunday.)

The surrender took place at a little red schoolhouse which is the headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower.

The surrender which brought the war in Europe to a formal end after five years, eight months and six days of bloodshed and destruction was signed for Germany by Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, new chief of staff of the German army.

It was signed for the Supreme Allied Command by Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, chief of staff for Gen.

They were asked sternly if they understood the surrender terms imposed upon Germany and if they would be was given leave to do so. "With this signature," They answered yes.

They answered yes.

Germany, which began the war with a ruthless attack upon Poland followed by successive aggressions and brutality in internment camps, surrendered with an appeal to the victors for mercy toward the German people and armed suffered more than five years, both have achieved and suffered more than perhaps any other people in the world."

After signing the full surrender, Jodl said he wanted to speak and

"With this signature," he said in soft-spoken German, "the German people and armed forces are for better or worse delivered into the victors' hands."

The petite 23-year-old blonde married Ens. Robert A. MacDow-ell of Saugerties, N. Y., last De-cember, six months after the War Department notified her unqualifiedly that death had come to her first husband, Lt. Harold W. Goad, a bomber pilot.

Now the War Department has notified her of its mistake. Goad, who is 27 and a native of Portsmouth, O., was liberated from a Jap prison camp in Rangoon, after 18 months of privation. His plane exploded over Burma Oct. 14, 1943, after he had dived out of formation to prevent hitting other planes of the formation. Goad was blown through the fuselage with two other members of the crew but all survived and were captured by the Japs. Now the War Department has were captured by the Japs.

While the wives of servicemen throughout the country waited expectantly for the young matron to make her choice between the two fighting men, she cabled Lt. Goad, now in Calcutta:

"Darling, am so glad to hear you are alive. Will see you soon. I love you with all my heart."

It appeared, therefore, that the little blonde might find a way out of her marriage to Ens. MacDowell yet she declared:
"I'm faced with a decision I can't make at present I was

Ens. MacDowell, who has been stationed at a Navy installation at Miami, had been expected to communicate with her, but it was reported he might be on his way

In Calcutta, the Associated Press reported, Lt. Goad sat on the edge of a cot in a hospital where he and other Jap prison camp inmates are recuperating

'I thought I could take any thing, but this is tougher than anything I have been through. I would like to get a telephone call through to my wife. I just can't decide anything until I talk with

Lt. Goad had cabled her of his return from the "dead." He said:

"I couldn't say very much in 20 words, and that was all the government would let me send her."

There is no likelihood the double-wife will be prosecuted for bigamy in this state. Municipal Judge Martin DeVries pointed out that under California law she is not subject to prosecution since not subject to prosecution, since she entered into the second mar-riage innocently. That wedding was illegal and must be annulled, he said. If she should choose her second husband nevertheless she would have to divorce her first and remarry, the jurist explained.

MRS. HELEN GOAD-MacDOWELL Uncertain as to Future

at Would You Do Real Love Must Rule 2-Hubby Girl

True love—that's the only thing that should guide Mrs. Goad-MacDowell in her dilemma.

Everyone around town today had a lot of ideas on the problem, but they all concluded by saying, "she should be married to the one she loves the most."

"Her duty is to Lt. Goad," said one marine at South Station who had fought at Guadalcanal, "He gave up a lot for her," but then got dreamy-eyed and said, "love's the only thing that matters. True love," he said.

All had great sympathy with Mrs. Goad-MacDowell, but one sailor who at first said she should divorce MacDowell, added, "No, the one dearest in her heart."

One girl whose husband is missing in action felt that Goad had first priority, but that for a happy life she should stay with the man who had made happiest.

Well, it's a nice May;day and people's hearts are lighter, and they seemed to feel that love, love, love, should guide the way for anyone in any dilemma.

Probe R. I. Fire Fatal to Five

PROVIDENCE, May 7-Police and fire officials launched an investigation today into the fire which took the lives of five per-sons and destroyed a four-story tenement house at Almy and Tell sts. early this morning.

The dead are. Mrs. Anna Cerbo, 27; her sons, Emelio, 2, and Joseph, 7; her father, John Iacono, 55, and her brother, John Iacono, 15, 15 Jr., 15.

Her husband, Emelio, 30, was seriously burned when he at-tempted to flee from his fourthfloor room.

A second floor tenant, Mrs. Maria Annarino, 52, suffered bruises in a 20-foot leap to the ground.

Officials said the fire started in a store on the ground floor and swept to the roof, trapping the Cerbo family.

Abp. Cushing Visits Sherborn

Citing the example of Mary Magdalene, Abp. Cushing told 400 women inmates of the Sherborn Reformatory today that their object in life now was to make a new start and avoid the pitfalls of the past.

News of the unconditional surrender of Germany came to the Archbishop during his address and he announced it immediately to the women, who cheered.

During his talk he also disclosed plans for a new girls' guidance center in Boston where they would be welcomed after leaving Sherborn and would be given inspiration and guidance in their start on a new life.

"You have three things to remember," he told the young women. "First, make a new start, avoiding the mistakes of the past. Second, never be discouraged and always avoid the old associations which were the pitfalls of the past. Third, remember that you can't do it alone but need the help of God and those who are trying to help you."

A Germany thoroughly smashed in battle surrendered unconditionally to the western Allies and Soviet Russia at 2:41 a. m. today (8:41 p. m. Sunday, EWT), finishing history's bloodiest conflict after 2319 days. At least 40,000,000 men, women and children were casualties from this global war fired by Hitler's armored plunge into Poland on Sept. 1, 1939. Hitler's Reich lay shattered. Victory in Europe was won-at tremendous, unassessable cost in human lives and treasure. The Germany, which once overspread almost all of Europe, had dominated northern Africa and waged U-boat war that came near to controlling the seas, had been reduced in this final hour to trapped, though large, garrisons in Norway, in Czechoslovakia-Austria-Yugoslavia, in French ports and on channel islands, in Latvia, on Aegean islands, and in desperate, diminishing pockets in Germany itself. France and England officially entered the war Sept. 3, two days after Hitler marched into Poland. This was a Sunday, a day of the week which played a significant part in the great struggle. On Sept. 16, Russia also invaded Poland, in accordance with an agreement with the Nazis, and on Sept. 27 the Poles, battered and recling under the mighty blows they had received, were forced to surrender Warsaw. On Nov. 30, Russia attacked tiny Finland, and on April 9, Hitler's armored forces rolled into Denmark and Norway, almost without opposition. May 10 was a redletter day in the program of the Fuehrer, for on that day he invaded Beligum, the Netherlands and Luxembourg in a move which he said would "decide the fate of the German nation for the next 1000 years." Soviets Hunt Proof Of Hitler's Death

MOSCOW, May 7 (INS)—So-viet investigators were believed to be questioning captured Nazis in Berlin today trying to recon-struct eevnts leading up to the disappearance of Hitler. The Soviet press reiterated that the Russians would like to see the body of the ex-Fuehrer.

A new but unconfirmed version of the death of Propaganda Chief Paul Joseph Goebbels was that he perished in a suicide pact with his wife and his entire family and that the crowd gathered before the city hall when Brig. Gen. John L. air raid shelter near the Reichs-

ONE WAR IS OVER; OTHER GOES ON

THE WAR is over in Europe. At long last has come V-E Day. The victory that has been so frightfully costly in blood and money is won.

We are thankful that a dangerous enemy of civilization has been eliminated.

We are thankful that no more of our sons will die on Old World soil or in the air above it or in the waters about it.

We are thankful that the door has been opened to a peace that will endure.

We are thankful that the hopes of all men who love democracy and hate tyranny can become reality.

But we cannot rejoice with full heart.

Too many of our loved ones lie under white crosses in alien lands and beneath the waves of foreign seas.

Too many are maimed and crippled and incapacitated as long as they live.

Too much of the progress of the ages has been destroyed.

Too much of the wealth of our own country which could have obliterated poverty and all its evils has been lost in the inferno of waste and ruin.

V-E Day is therefore both a glad day and a solemn day.

It is the kind of day that calls thoughtful men to their temples of worship, there to be contrite for the errors of the past and to ask God's deliverance from a repetition in the future.

LTHOWA'H V-E Day signals a great vic-A tory, it does not mark the end of the war for America.

It officially designates the ending of a part of the war.

We still have Japan to meet and defeat. We still have to overcome and overwhelm the greatest, most powerful enemy of our Western way of life. We still have to create weapons for battle and supply men to use them.

We still must reckon our security in terms of lost lives and broken hearts.

We cannot and we shall not forget how we got into the war.

Whatever the Germans or the Italians might eventually have done to compel us to go to war with them, it was the JAPANESE who stabbed us in the back at Pearl Harbor.

It was the Japanese who despoiled our soil, desecrated our flag and spilled American blood on that December morning nearly four years ago while we hoped for peace and confidently expected it.

Nor can we forget that we almost lost the war because of Japan.

Because we had to fight the whole Axis-Germany and Italy as well as Japan-we could not fight back at the Japanese as soon or as well as we wished.

Taking advantage of our plight, Japan moved like an octopus over the vast Pacific, her tentacles reaching out for one American possession after another.

Painfully and with a horrible loss of life, we pushed the Japanese conquerors out of the Philippines and Guam and the Aleutians, and now we are reducing the inner citadel of the Empire itself.

BUT WE HAVE MUCH MORE TO DO AND FAR YET TO GO...

W. E. CANNOT rest or relax or for one moment delude ourselves into thinking the war is over for us.

We must press on with the fight for our life.

We must put all our resources into it

When Japan bows in unconditional surrender and Old Glory flies, vindicated and proud, over Tokyo, then-and then onlycan we bring our heroic sons home and join with them in the celebration of VICTORY DAY.

If they let it go full blast they are inconsiderate, ignorant and selfish at heart. Don't invite them to your next bridge, poker or pinochle party.

CAN FRANCISCO, May 7—Great is the distress and deep the humiliation of a polyglot group of professional unioneers from several lands, all claiming to be spokesmen of Labor with a capital L, who have been trying to attach themselves to the United Nations Con-

The host, so to speak, is the CIO and the guests include Sir Walter Citrine, of the British Federation of Trade Unions, who once was misled into assuming that an eminent American gangster must be a very important labor leader in Westbrook Pegler the United States because when he went to London as a fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor, he carried nine secretaries with him.

The fraternal delegate was Tommy Maloy of Chicago, long since eliminated by a blast-furnace or sawed-off shotgun and the secretaries were members of the mob which later became the invisible government of the Movie Employes' Union under George Browne and Willie Bioff.

On another occasion, during a visit to New York, Sir Walter was honored by a tea at the Waldorf, given by William Green, the president of the American Federation of Labor, and had the pleasure of meeting under these stately auspices, Joe Fay, who recently was sentenced to two terms in prison for using his union office to practice extortion.

SIR WALTER comes here this time under the patronage of the CIO, for the AFL has placed a hex-mark on the door of the current international union conclave, refusing to participate or even to recognize it as a labor activity because the Communists of the Soviet government are present.

The AFL takes the view that the Soviet Union movement is not a free labor organization inasmuch as it is a subsidiary of the government and run by the government, not the members.

This is a very pious position considering that the AFL in the United States has encouraged the national government to take over and perform most of the important duties for which unions exist.

And, while it undoubtedly is true that any simple and naive Russian tovarish would be liquidated promptly for criticizing the high officials of his union, who are, ultimately, the high officials of the state, it is also true that in many of Brother Green's unions, the brother who demands an accounting of a special assessment or income tax, levied by the ruling authorities, thoroughly understands that this is not always prudent conduct not always prudent conduct.

NEVERTHELESS, even under the boycott of the AFL and the mine workers of John L Lewis, the little group of serious thinkers proceeding with its proceedings across the Bay in Oakland under conditions which amount almost to a political blackout.

They haven't received official credentials or even official tickets to the Peace Conference Their status is no more august than that of a regional meeting of the Elks.

I have been unable to learn what the Chinese labor movement is, but one hears that the Chinese delegate, one H. L. Liu, got as far as London and has been standing around the airports and docks practically with his thumb in the air trying to hitch a ride, thus far without success.

MR. SIDNEY HILLMAN and Mr. Phillp Murray, the president of the CIO, are bearing the burden of the embarrassment. They were unable to get quarters for themselves and foreign guests in the San Francisco hotels and so had to put up their friends in Oakland, a condition emphasizing their loss of prestige in their

And when they were going to hold a mass meeting to advertise their presence they had to appeal to their cherished old enemy, Mayor Roger Lapham, a ship-owner, who beat the union bosses at the polls in the fall of 1943, to utter some cordial words of welcome and say any other kind remarks that he might find in his great heart after many a fight with their disciples in

Hollywood Today

OLLYWOOD, May 7-I am sure it will be good news to all Bob Hope's fans that he and Paramount have kissed and made up and he'll start his first picture Aug. 1 when he returns from overseas. The reconciliation was made with Henry Ginsberg, just before Henry went East and it calls for a new seven-year contract.

Although Paramount won't admit this, I am sure that Bob gets a financial participation in each picture he makes. At the time of the bitter quarrel, Bob said he didn't want to make any pictures because he wanted to devote all his time to camp appearances. know Bob

Bob Hope

Without any more ado the director took the young blond giant to Frank Ross' office and without so much as a test the boy was signed for a part in "The Robe." INTERESTING news that Hilda Krueger, German motion picture actress who was a favorite of Hitler, is in Mexico City under the assumed name of Marie Duval. She quarreled with the Fuehrer and left Germany, but that doesn't prevent Mexican authorities from keeping a watchful eye on her. In fact, all the imitation Dietrichs wandering around Mexico City with fake Slavic, French, or Spanish names, are all under constant surveillance. That's as it should be.

CHATTER IN HOLLY-WOOD: News that interests everyone in Hollywood is the reported engagement of Mrs. Anita Howard, former wife of Lynn Howard of the famous Seabiscuit family, and Multi-Millionaire George Vanderbilt. It's interesting that George's know he sees her, not in public, but secretly. Barbara, however, has made no plans to get her divorce. She told me there is no reason for her to hurry. Her little boy arrives next week and she will want to spend her time with him here.

WHEN PIERRE HUSS, Hearst foreign crorespondent, was in Hollywood a few months ago, he prophesied that Hitler would be reported dead before the end of the war in Germany, Pete, as his friends call him, said that one of Utiler's deal said that one of Hitler's dou-bles would be put to death and then the Fuehrer would have

of House and Senate to defer farm and war workers the other day, many Capitol reporters naturally assumed it was the first time he had exercised the Executive veto.

It was not. Away back on April 19, before Russia annexed San Francisco, the President performed his initial thumbs-downing. He vetoed a bill H.R. 2055) for the private relief of Ben Grunstein! * *

NOW Ben Grunstein is pre-sumably quite a fellow in the circles in which he moves and it seems fair to assume his relatives and friends were interested in having him relieved. But apparently the relief of Ben Grunstein had little general interest—which probably explains why the No. 1 Truman veto silvered by upperficed. slipped by unnoticed.

However, I think the populace made a great mistake in being so indifferent. The relief of Ben Grunstein, while possibly not so spectacular as the relief of Lucknow — Lucknow had more dramatic stuff such as a beleaguered garrison and off-stag bagpipers playing "The Campbells are Comin'"—had many intriguing features.

One of these features was that Mr. Truman, as Vice-President, had signed the bill to relieve Mr. Lucknow—I mean Grunstein.

But, on ascending to the Presidency, he vetoed the bill.

I BELIEVE I have spoken about these private relief bills in the past. They are numerous. Legislators are forever dropping them in the hopper on behalf of constituents who would like a little dough from the government. government.

It seems that Mr. Grunstein, who dwells in Hudson County, N. J., went $2500 bail bond for a Reuben Finn. Mr. Finn was accused of having taken it on the lam, as we say in Supreme Court parlance, and Mr. Grunstein was requested to pay the $2500 as a forfeit. Mr. Grunstein objected to

Restaurant Week Slogan 'Eat Well'

With the slogan, "Eat Well to Work Well," more than 10,000 restaurants in the state today began observance of National Restaurant Week, which will continue through next Sunday, under auspices of the Massachusetts Restaurant Ass'n, in co-operation with the nation-wide campaign.

In an announcement to restaurateurs, John W. Stokes, president of the MRA, said the importance and responsibility of res taurants in providing adequate meals, especially for the millions engaged in war work, will be em-phasized during the week. "To maintain a high rate of efficiency reduce absenteeism and accidents, workers must keep in good health, and this depends on well-balanced, nutritional meals,"

New-Found Loveliness Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

T'S SPRING . . . and you want to stay out in the sun, breathe in the air, feel the caress of gentle zephyrs on your skin. You've taken off your fur coat and your heavy suit . . . but you're still wearing your winter face . . . your winter figure. Change that now, too . . . change over to spring with your presture your lithe with your posture, your litheness, your bright new make-up, your smooth, clear complexion.
You can bridge the gap with some perfect treatments. In surroundings of modern efficiency and fastidiousness.

roundings of modern efficiency and fastidiousness . . . professionals trained under the personal direction of a noted beautician and in her inimitable technique . . . perform daily small miracles in the transformation of body and face.

We had a "matinee morning" there and we feel it is supershort-time rejuvenator. Here's a resume of what it consists of. Your treatment will begin at

Your treatment will begin at 9:30 with one hour of luxurious, relaxing body massage. An abrelaxing body massage. An absolute cat-stretch combined with a lulling and toning of your flesh . . . the massage will stimulate your circulation and bring a glow to your skin. You finish off with an invigorating Scotch Hose and a rubdown with a lusciously thick turkish towel . . and you are ready for towel . . . and you are ready for the hair shop.

PLAN HOME TREATMENT

Your hair is brushed and scrubbed and shampooed until it squeaks with cleanliness. Your hairdresser has studied the contour of your face and will arrange your hair in the style which is most appropriate and flattering. Then while you are under the dryer . . . a manicurist will do your nails . . . painting them with a gleaming polish that will match your make-up. Now you are ready for your face treatment.

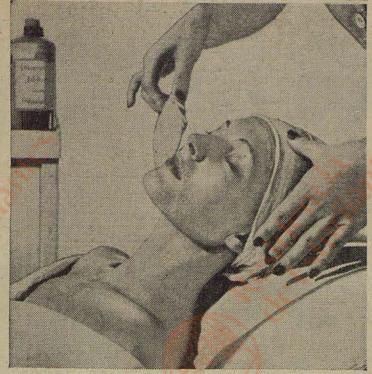

Once again, your type is care-

Once again, your type is carefully studied . . . the quality of your skin the shape of your face . . . your personal skin problems are weighed before the treatment is beginned. fore the treatment is begun. These factors determine the creams that will be used how make-up will be applied. For one hour . . . rich creams and fragrant lotions are patted into your skin as tiny lines fade . . . muscles respond ... and magic fingertips smooth away strain and fatigue. Each step is explained and a home treatment is outlined.

Then on a skin that is clean beyond any dream of cleanliness...flushed with natural, healthful look of good circulation... your make-up is applied. Then back to the hair shop for the combing out. You can hardly believe it is you reflected in the glass... you seem to have a new sparkle as seem to have a new sparkle, a new aliveness. Think about this now... and do something about it tomorrow.

Schedule for Breakfast

By MARTHA LEE

NUTRITIONAL and medical authorities recommend that breakfast should provide from one-fourth to one-third of the individual's daily food requirements, not only in calories but so far as possible in all essential nutrients as well (protein, carbohydrates, fat, vitamins, and minerals).

An easily remembered basic preakfast nattern is fruit gereal.

breakfast pattern is fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. To meet individual food requirements other foods such as eggs, or breakfast meats may have to be added to this basic pattern. It is important to know that a breakfast of average servings of each of the "basic pattern" foods totals about 600 calories. Simplest way to have a good breakfast is to plan and to have the food on hand. Foresight the night before will cut breakfast preparation.

Here are three ways to speed

Pale Neutrals Are Style Favorites

By BETTINA BEDWELL
S SUMMER gets nearer, the pale neutrals get to be about the breakfast:

1—Set the breakfast table when you finish the dinner dishes; or place the necessary silver and dishes on a tray, ready to carry to the table.

2-Write down the menu and preparation schedule in advance. Soon the preparation becomes automatic.

3—Keep a good variety of cereal breakfast foods on hand for the "main dish."

20-MINUTE BREAKFAST

important bread-and-butter shades in the styles. And you can find them in very grand clothes for dress-up and eve-

The shade we call "natural" is the

Among suits of natural colored fabrics, the one sketched from Sophie is about the finest. Sophie, who is a master at the suit, makes this one of natural colored crepe, with a jacket that buttons up the front of a slim jacket, and an easy, graceful skirt. The jacket has turn-back cuffs that are faced with black and white crepe, the material that makes the charming blouse that belongs so completely to the suit. The blouse collar shows around the neck of the jacket.

top-flight neutral, for it comes in raw silk and in other summer fabrics. A suit in this palest beige shade is a best bet for the whole season. 2-Boil water for coffee; measure coffee into the pot. 3-Squeeze oranges (or prepare other fruit).

4-Measure cereal and add to boiling water. Cook according to directions on cereal package. 5-Make toast.

6-Cook eggs by placing them in the bottom of the double boiler used for cereal.

7-Place dishes and food on table.

8-Finish making coffee (if Copyright, 1945, United Features Synd., Inc. necessary).

9-Serve breakfast.

The details of the "basic pattern" can be varied to prevent breakfast monotony. For instance, a dry cereal may replace the cooked one once in a while; eggs may be poached, scrambled, made into an omelet, or fried with bacon or some other breakfast meat that may be available; and hot muffins or corn bread may take the place of toast.

PLAIN MUFFINS

2 cups flour

tsp. baking powder

4 tsp. salt 2 tbsp. sugar 1 egg, slightly beaten 1 cup milk 2 to 4 tbsp. shortening, melted

Sift flour; measure; add baking powder, salt and sugar; sift again. Combine egg, milk and melted shortening (slightly cooled); pour into flour mixture and stir just enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Do not heat will greeced muffin not beat. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 to 15 medium-sized muffins.

good sense, such an endearing appreciation of human values, that they establish a fine partnership with their parents, and pull their own weight in the home-craft. Others lock their parents out of their "private life," and make not the slightest effort to pull their own weight. Teen-ager, which are YOU?—MRS. BEECKMAN.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

EW YORK, Sunday - A friend of mine has just sent me a prayer by John Oxenham, a British poet. It is a very beautiful prayer for older people, or for people who have spent themselves so greatly that they fear not to be able to give their best in their remaining years on earth:

"Lord, when thou see'st that my work is done,

Let me not linger here with failing powers, A workless worker in a world of work; But with a word, just bid me home and I will come,

Right gladly will I come, yea—right gladly will I come—."

I HAVE ALWAYS felt that one could have a certain sense of resignation when people die who have lived long and useful lives. My rebellion has always been over the deaths of young

A friend of mine, however, not long ago said something to me which may be comforting to many other women.

She remarked that what she wanted for her son was that he should feel he had fulfilled his mission in life; that if he had not spent himself during this war, fighting for the things in which he believed, he would feel empty. If he died and was not here to carry on in peacetime, she would still not rebel.

OF ONE THING I am sure: Young or old, in order to be useful we must stand for the things we feel are right, and we must work for those things wherever we find ourselves.

It does very little good to believe something unless you tell your friends and associates of your beliefs. Those who fight down in the market place are bound to be confused now and

Sometimes they will be de-ceived, and sometimes the dirt that they touch will cling to

But if their hearts are put and their purposes are unswerving, they will win through to the end of their mission on earth, untarnished.

IF THE FAMILY of American people have a mission it is to the crippled combat soldiers—to speak for the wordless, to see for the blind, to walk for the lame. My mission is to crystalize in cold black type the distillations of their mute hearts. A large undertaking? No, I think

For I have just flown home from Paris in a hospital plane bearing 16 litter patients, all American soldiers lately liberated from German prison camps. Some wore wire cages around stumps of missing feet. Some were armless. Two were paralyzed. Three had metal plates in their skulls. Most faced multiple corrective operations. None complained! All were cheerful in a diamond-hard sort of way.

Austen Lake hard sort of way.
Did I say ALL? All but one.

There was a 20-year-old boy in lower 16, a dark haired youth with features that had once been handsome and a frame that might have graced a college football field. He did not talk. He scarcely moved and then only to feel hours.

As further evidence of the confidence felt here regarding racing, about his blind eyes.

I noticed him first as I rode in No. 3 ambulance from the base hospital to Orly Field. Three of the patients bab-bled happily—things like "Boy this's 'at Beeeg moment" and "Now we start bein' peepul again." But the lad in the and "Now we start bein' peepul again." But the lad in the bottom tier spoke no word, though his mind was clear and his wounds had healed weeks ago.

CAPT. BERNARD J. DOYLE of 79 Main st., Hatfield, Mass., the flight surgeon who superintended the plane loading, noticed him, too, with an intuitive perception of a humanitarian. He spoke to the flight nurse, 1-Lt. Lois Smith, of Lafayette, La. "That lad doesn't respond," he said, softly. "He's lost his light." The nurse nodded.

The revolving propellors of the big plane seemed to snort, "He's lost's light... his light... his light." It duckwaddled along the take-off strip and suddenly gathered the grace of a swan as it became airborne. The litter patients warped leathery faces into unaccustomed grins and swivelled their necks to peer through portholes at the fast receding earth. All except the lad in lower 16. He did not turn his head on the pillow. He asked no questions. He was remote from reality and fumbling within his internal gloom. For the light that he had lost was not alone his visual sight. It was the light of hope as well.

There was no rest for Miss Smith during the long oversea flight. There were bedpans to fetch, dry throats to moisten, aching limbs to support with blanket rolls. One youth had been a pre-war truck driver and mechanic who had lost his right arm and the left at the elbow. So now Miss Smith fed him nibbles from his box lunch like a nursery infant. Another had lost toes and heels from both feet when his German captor had stolen his combat boots and forced him to march many miles through December snows. He had been a drill press operator. Another had both arms supported in elevated splints built like scaffolds into his plaster body casing. A fourth had a livid hollow in his forehead through which his pulse undulated as through an opaque window. They did not ask for attention, but Miss Smith knew instinctively what to do.

At last she crouched beside the lad in lower 16. Her lips moved

At last she crouched beside the lad in lower 16. Her lips moved close to his ear and the boy turned sightless eyes toward the sound of 20,162 saw the Sunday game of her voice and reached his hand slowly from under the coverlets in N. Y. of her voice and reached his hand slowly from under the coverlets, groping for hers. There was a great heart hunger in the gesture. His fingers clung greedily. But his lips formed silent "No...no... and he shook his head in short negative rolls.

When the little nurse came back to the bucket seats in the rear of the plane her eyes were troubled. And she told how she had said, "Lonnie, soon you'll be in a hospital near home. Then you can telephone to your family and they'll come to see you. It's Capable of the plane had said, "Lonnie, soon you'll be in a hospital near home. Then you can telephone to your family and they'll come to see you. It's Capable of the plane had said, "Lonnie, soon you'll be in a hospital near home. Then you can telephone to your family and they'll come to see you. It's Capable of the plane had said, "Lonnie, soon you'll be in a hospital near home. Then you can telephone to your family and they'll come to see you. It's Capable of the plane had said, "Lonnie, soon you'll be in a hospital near home. Then you can telephone to your family and they'll come to see you.

The First Dreaded Step Forward

BUT LONNIE HAD SAID NO, he would not telephone. More than the repugnance of further operations he dreaded telling his home folks the ugly truth—of the mutilations of his face, the gaping hollow of one eye, the bloodshot sightless red of the other. No, he said without emotion, he wouldn't let any of his family see him. "Talk to him," entreated the little nurse, "see what you can do."

Mine was only another disembodied voice to Lonnie. He told dispassionately about that last day of March on the Seig river where he and a platoon of other combat engineers had been building a pontoon bridge. It was a brief, calm recital. The Germans had counterattacked at night and had caught his four-man outpost be-tween bazooka fire, wounding three and killing one. "It doesn't sound very exciting," he said. There was nothing morbid about his tone as he said he could barely distinguish light with the

"Lonnie," I said, "you're on the way back—not only toward home but toward recovery. What surgery and medicine can do for you—the best there is—is waiting. But part of your progress is ut to you. If you resist and put it off it will hurt your whole advance." . The boy rolled his head around and said quietly, "How? Wha do you mean? I spoke about his dread of telephoning home, of letting hi I spoke about his dread of telephoning home, of letting his family know the truth and of seeing him. And how that dread might grow into an unbreakable obsession to hamper the whole sequence of normal recovery. "It's the first healing step," I told him, "perhaps the most painful one." The boy brooded thoughtfully for long moments without a word, the corrugations of his wounded eyes turned upward. Finally he said, "Call the nurse." I did and went away with a feeling of defeat.

Yet it was not defeat. For in a moment the little flight nurse came back and said with shining eyes, "He said he'd do it," she reported, "he promised faithfully." And he did!

Gansett Rushes Plans For Racing Saturday

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 7—Narragansett Park offices were hummnig here today as plans were rushed for a resumption of racing on Saturday provided the racing ban is lifted as is momentarily expected with the complete surrender of Germany an accomplished fact.

Racing Secretary Ty Shea's first condition book was due to be printed today. There are sufficient horses here ready for competition to stage a full race program even if with small fields for the first few days the first few days.

The racing officials and all the other necessary help are available for a quick opening and it will be surprising indeed if the New Eng-land turf season is not under way

If Washington does not give the go-ahead signal in time to open on Saturday, high officials of the Gansett Racing Ass'n are very confident that the sport of kings, idle since Jan. 2, will be restored the first part of next week.

Individual mutuel machines, which print and record each ticket, have arrived in Pawtucket and they can be installed in a few hours.

a meeting of all Gansett officials was called for this afternoon and the board of directors also met.

Ferriss Works Out After Blanking N. Y.

By HUCK FINNEGAN

The Red Sox played at Sampson, N. Y., Naval Training center today, but 10 of the pitchers were kept behind to lighten the transportation load. One of the 10 was Dave

Ferriss, standout of the 5-0 Red Sox voctory over the Yanks in the first game of a Sunday double-header. (The Yanks took the nightcap, 2-0.)

You'd think the kid would take advantage of the day off and bask in his glory, wouldn't you? Fut no! There he was in uniform at 11 o'clock. "Just want to loosen up a bit," he said. "He-sides I need the running."

That's Ferriss, forever trying to improve himself. Between his hustle and his heart, he's really something out of a book.

was advertised as the new Walter Johnson and Babe Ruth combined and before the largest crowd (32,073) he ever saw in his life he hlanked the Yanks seven hits and hit as advertised.

"I wasn't half so nervous as I was in Philadelphia," the smiling youngster said as he tucked the winning ball in his pocket. "I think my control was better as a result." He struck Metheny out in the ninth with Etten on second on a sinker pitch, he said. Stirnon a sinker pitch, he said. Stirn-weiss surprised him by hitting the 3-0 pitch for a double in the fifth.

Most of the hits off him were scratches. Etten hit the ball hard but even his one safe hit went through Culby's upstretched hands. Both of Grimes' were hands. Both of Grimes' were bloopers.

"He was 100 per cent better than he was against the A's," said Umpire Ernie Stewart, who worked behind the plate in both Ferriss' appearances. "His control was excellent; in Philly it was off. The A's hit some bad pitches and helped him. He didn't need any help against the Yanks. He was immense."

"His fast ball is 'alive'" the

"His fast ball is 'alive' " the Yanks admitted, but added: "There are pitchers in the league much harder to hit than Ferriss."

Yet the record shows he's pitched 18 scoreless innings, and when, if ever, did a rookie match that record in his first two games? And no Cobb, Jackson, or Ruth ever made five hits in his first six trips to the plate.

Remind me to ask Cronin when he's going to bat him No. 3 in the lineup.

Ferriss wasn't the whole show. though the crowd made him exactly that. Johnson hit a homer in the sixth that put him on easy street. And Borowy was almost unhittable in the nightcap as he blanked the Sox with five hits for his fourth victory . . . Con-nie Mack is wild about Ferriss' nie Mack is wild about Ferriss' hitting, and so is Hughey (.438) Duffy... Both games were halted by the rain, and the crowd dwindled to 3000 or so by the true play ended at 7:15 p. m... "The Yanks didn't ride me a bit," said Ferriss, who took quite a verbal massage from Al Simmons in Philly last week ... Oscar Think of the youngster coming out of the Army unheralded to pitch the Sox first shutout a week ago against the A's. And think of him coming back to repeat the treatment against the vaunted Yanks! And his hitting! Five hits in six official trips to the plate. Three for three off Bobo Newsom last week, two for three off Bonham and Bevens in the Sunday game. ... Metko is playing with a torn rib and that's why he couldn't bend for Grimes' fluke double

The only racing since Florida closed early in January has been in Mexico City, and none of the horses that have been racing in Mexico will appear in New Eng-land until summer. Firpo, Jackson Top Mack's Show

By BILL SMITH

Pedro Firpo, sixth ranking lightweight in the country, will be shooting for an outdoor match Paulie Jackson of Reading, Pa., the Callahan A. C. show at Mechanics Building, Thursday night.

The dusky Camden flash gave Larry Bolvin a thorough drubbing in his last Boston appearance and hopes to administer the same dose to Jackson.

While a stranger to these parts, Jackson is well known to Firpo, having scored two decisions over the latter in three bouts. Firpo has one triumph to his credit.

Matchmaker Eddie Mack has announced that the winner of the Firpo-Jackson fight will be signed to meet Pep and this added in-centive should spur them both to fever pitch.

That was Happy Chandler's reply to a question on what ac-tion he would take if players and umpires disregard his "advice" and go to the race tracks on off days.

They were all gathered for an open conference today with pro Harold McGrail before settling down to preliminary instruction by their own coaches in their own schools.

Quite sensibly, the kids won't go tearing into this new program to blast open fox-holes on the city's courses. They'll all have at least four or five lessons on fundamentals before they will be allowed to move onto the park or the George Wright greens. These will include a weekly conference with a golf pro.

As a typical example, Coach Charlie Doherty at Roxbury Me-morial has called out his candi-dates and about 20 boys have reported so far. It seems that all, with the exception of one or two, are novices so that Coach Doher-ty's job will be to concentrate on the simplest lessons and golf etiquette.

Then, he'll take them out on the course, divide them into groups and move from one to the clients know how we work and how
