

THE DIAMOND.....

As Precious In War As It Is In Peace

2) A drill setter inspects a diamond studded bit by means of a magnifying glass. He is checking on the alignment of the stones. Properly set, a diamond-pointed tool can wear away two big emery wheels a foot and one-half in diameter and an inch thick before the diamond itself shows wear. (See other photos in this 3-picture set.)